BIG HOUSE AND LITTLE HOUSE

The Lyford-Dickey house (left) at the Richardson Bay Wildlife Sanctuary on the Tiburon Peninsula seems to have had a child — and an identical one at that. The little house in the foreground is a replica built by the Marin Builders' Exchange which will be sold for the benefit of the National Audubon Society. In the meantime, the little house, which already starred in the San Rafael Centennial celebration, will appear in the June 29 Tiburon Anniversary and the Larkspur-Corte Madera Fourth of July parades. It also will be on display at both celebrations. (Photo by Ty Barbour)

Nixon Coming Home; Only A Brief Rest

LAJES AIR BASE, Azores (UPI) — President Nixon headed for home today following exhausting discussions with Arab and Israeli leaders that a top aide said "opened the door to peace in the Middle East."

Awaiting Nixon upon his return to Washington in the late afternoon was a warm welcome by his daughters, Cabinet members and others —as well as the Watergate and impeachment problems that have been in his background during his five-nation "journey for peace" in the Mideast.

Nixon's last stop was an overnight rest at Lajes Air Base that included talks with the new Portuguese president, Antonio de Spinola during which the two leaders agreed on cotinued U.S. support for a "independent, free and prosperous Portugal."

The trip that crisscrossed four Arab nations and Israel and included numerous talks with top leaders, state dinners, sightseeing and public appearances before millions, appeared to take its toll on Nixon. His eyes appeared puffy in his meeting with Spinola today and he called his trip "very long and arduous."

But the trip, which Nixon repeatedly told Mideast leaders would bring no instant solutions, raised hopes in the presidential party of permanent peace in the Mideast.

"The diplomacy on this trip has opened the door to peace in the Middle East and the nations in that area now have an opportunity to walk through that door," Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said.

Ziegler said he could not assess what effect the trip would have on opinion in the United States where Nixon is the subject of an impeachment inquiry.

"I can't judge," he said. "I think the American people will have to be the judges."

The President's two daughters, Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Cox, planned to meet their father and mother when they arrive at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., and ride with them in a helicopter for a welcome by Cabinet members, White House aides, foreign diplomats and others on the White House south lawn.

Nixon's stay in Washington will be brief. He plans to go to Key Biscayne, Fla. tomorrow for a weekend of rest and preparation for next week's visit to NATO headquarters in Brussels and his trip to Moscow for his third Summit meeting with Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev.

In brief comments before boarding his Spirit of '76 jet in the Axores, Nixon said that while he has been "preoccupied with the problems of the Middle East" the last eight days he now is turning his attention to two other "crucial areas of the world: Europe and the Soviet Union."

"A major topic of our discussion was the importance that the United States attaches to Portugal's contribution to NATO and to western security," Nixon said after the two hour meeting.

While the two leaders discussed NATO and possible technical and economic aid, there was no agreement on the leasing of the Lajes Air Base in the Azores owned by Portugal. The lease had expired Feb. 3 and there was speculation an agreemnt might have been reached today on a new one.

Court Rejects Challenge Of Vietnam War Resister

Cites Two Sections Of Uniform Military Code

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, rejecting the challenge of a Vietnam War resister, today upheld on a 5-to-3 vote two sections of the Uniform Code of Military Justice — one of them dating back to colonial days.

Justice William H. Rehnquist wrote the majority opinion on an appeal by Capt. Howard B. Levy, a Brooklyn dermatologist who was convicted by court-martial and given a three-year sentence for refusing to train medics for duty in Vietnam.

Levy was convicted under two provisions of the law governing conduct in the military.

One section makes it a criminal offense to engage in "conduct unbecoming to an officer and a gentleman." The other, going back to early days of the U.S. military, forbids "all disorders and neglects to the prejudice of good order and discipline in the armed forces" and "all conduct of a nature tobring discredit upon the armed forces."

Lower courts had set aside both Levy's conviction and that of Marine Pvt. Mark Evrech, court-martialed for trying to publish an antiwar statement while in Vietnam. Evrech was convicted under the old provision, but his appeal was not decided today.

While rejecting Levy's appeal, the court majority noted that he has several other challenges of military law pending, and if he satisfies requirements for appeal he can take these to the 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals. Under an order from Justice William O. Douglas, he has been free on bond since August, 1969, and presumably will remain so until other appeals are disposed of.

Douglas dissented in today's ruling along with Justices Potter Stewart and William J. Brennan Jr., with Thurgood Marshall not participating.

In other major actions, the Court:

Held unconstitutional a part of Social Security law denying benefits to the illegitimate children of disabled workers if they are born after the disability occurred.

Ruled 6 to 3 that a federal law denying parole to drug offenders still applies to those convicted under it, although it no longer is on the books.

Ruled that the buyer of a railroad cannot sue former owners for damages on the basis of mismanagement that occurred long before the deal was made.

County Grants Dairy Subsidies

By ERIK INGRAM

A new program to subsidize Marin County dairymen for improvements to their ranches was approved on a 4-0 vote yesterday by Marin County supervisors. (Other supervisors stories, page 23.)

The program, developed by Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini, is aimed at providing low-interest loans to dairy ranchers so they can construct facilities to handle animal waste.

Many ranchers in the western and northern portions of the county are under fire from the Regional Water Quality Control Board which has threatened to close down their facilities. The regional agency maintains they are polluting streams.

In accepting the program with little discussion, supervisors allocated $55,000 to help pay interest costs next year. The cost could climb to $165,000 annually for an unspecified number of years.

Approval came during the fifth day of hearings on the county administrator's proposed $52.2 million budget for fiscal 1974-75. Supervisors, thus far, have added $650,000 to the spending program.

Giacomini's plan is to have ranchers apply for loans at local banks. They would pay interest at a 5 per cent rate and the county would pay any additional interest required by the banks.

Thus, if a bank loan was at 10 per cent, the rancher would pay the principal plus 5 per cent interest and the county would pay the other 5 per cent.

Giacomini said 49 of the 70 dairy ranchers in Marin have indicated an interest in the program. Four have taken out their own loans, two are not interested and the rest have decided "to wait and see," he said.

The total cost for the waste water facilities at the 49 ranches would run about $3.3 million or an average of about $67,000 each.

Giacomini based his proposal on a report prepared by Rixon J. Rafter, an agricultural engineer for the federal department of agriculture. He surveyed the 70 dairies during the last year and recommended the improvements.

In a related action, Rafter was retained by the county for another year to oversee the loan program. Half his $22,000 salary will be paid by the county and the other half by the Marin County Resource Conservation District.

Giacomini said only $55,000 is needed this year to help on the interest payments since only a third of the 49 dairies will be able to move ahead immediately.

His report does not speak to possible conflicts with state law prohibiting gifts of public funds to private individuals but supervisors said the county counsel's office is looking into the situation.

Giacomini said procedures also are being developed to provide checks and balances on the use of the funds. All ranchers will be eligible, regardless of income.

He added that months were spent working with state and federal officials to find grants for the improvements but none were available.

One state program, approved by voters in 1972, had $200 million for pollution control but most of that went to major oil companies, he said.

Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere, who in the past has voiced opposition to the subsidy program, was absent during yesterday's vote.

Beauty Contest Tonight Opens 35th Annual Sonoma-Marin Fair

Farm animals, amusement rides and entertainment will highlight the 35th annual Sonoma-Marin Fair which opens its five-day run at 6 p.m. today at the Petaluma fairgrounds.

Among the first events of this year's fair will be the Miss Sonoma-Marin beauty pageant at 8 p.m. in the grandstand. The winner, who will be selected from 12 Marin and Sonoma girls, will reign over fair activities.

Livestock judging for 4-H club members and Future Farmers of America, one of the mainstays of any rural fair, will begin at 8 a.m. tomorrow.

At 2:30 p.m. tomorrow, Whitey Roberts and little Mike Matthias will present a vaudeville show for senior citizens at the gardenway stage.

Friday highlights include concerts by the gold-record winning rock group, The Association, at 7 and 9 p.m. at the grandstand.

Other Friday events are a pet parade for children at 12:30 p.m. on the concourse and magic shows by Nahmen Nissen in the main exhibit building at 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 7:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Saturday the fairgrounds will come to life with a junior horse show at 9 a.m. in the horse show arena. Sponsored by the Petaluma Junior Riding Club, the show will include western and English events.

At 6:30 p.m. Saturday, the Pulika Gypsies will perform their haunting music on the gardenway stage. The day ends with a rodeo at 8 p.m. followed by a country and western dance at 9:30 p.m. in Behrens Park.

On Sunday, after a full day's activities, the fair will wind up on a festive note. The day's action includes a traditional parade at noon from downtown Petaluma to the fairgrounds and an annual chicken barbe-

Mill Valley Sewers: Half-A-Loaf Is Word

The City of Mill Valley yesterday won permission to issue 750 new sewer connections from the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board, apparently only about half the number hoped for by city officials.

A spokesman for the regional board said that the new connections were allowed because Mill Valley has made improvements in its sewerage system which "improved the quality of the waste water" but still has not met purity standards.

The city has been under a sewer connection ban since 1971 because of the quality of waste water discharged by the sewerage system.

At a Mill Valley City Council meeting Monday night, City Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said that the city needed approximately 1,250 new connections which already have been reserved or committed for building projects underway or about to begin.

He said at that time that some 1,600 new connections could become available through the regional water quality control board.

Usher was not available today for comment on the outcome of the regional board's meeting yesterday.

The 750 figure is based on single-family dwellings, a regional board spokesman said.

School Will Fight Court Ban On Song

Cotati-Rohnert Park School District trustees last night decided to appeal last week's superior court decision forbidding use of a song mentioning God in district classrooms.

Santa Rosa Superior Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. ruled the district cannot use a song titled "Thanksgiving" which was sung in kindergarten classes at Waldo Rohnert Elementary School. Murphy ruled that use of the song was an unconstitutional state establishment of religion.

District Supt. James H. Davidson said trustees agreed to ask the state textbook commission to help finance an appeal of Murphy's decision because the song came from a state--approved textbook.

The suit was filed by the Sonoma branch of the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of 5-year-old Sarah Langford of Rohnert Park.

Team Sports May Die At State College

The physical education department at Sonoma State College has recommended to the school's president that the school drop out of the Far Western Conference and sharply curtail its interscholastic athletics program.

Final decision is expected to be made shortly after incoming President, Dr. Marjorie Downing Wagner, arrives on campus July 1.

"Financial struggles" were cited by the director of athletics, Dr. Robert Sorani, as the chief reason behind the recommendation. The school has had constant difficulty trying to fund its athletic program, which is not supported by student body fees.

The problems were compounded April 22, he said, when William R. Trumbo, an effective fund-raiser, resigned as head basketball coach and director of athletics to take a basketball coaching job at Santa Rosa Junior College.

The physical education department's recommendation was made after consulting full-time faculty, coaches and the current president, Dr. Thomas H. McGrath.

Letters were sent to the athletic directors of the other Far Western Conference schools informing them that Sonoma State is considering withdrawal.

The decision on which sports will be dropped altogether, which will be reduced to intramural or club level and which will continue as interscholastic sports will not be made until Dr. Wagner's arrival.

San Rafael Councilmen Adopt $8,091,000 Spending Program

The San Rafael City Council last night adopted a $8,091,900 budget for 1974-75, virtually the same spending program proposed last month by City Mgr. William J. Bielser.

The fiscal plan, down $99,038 from this year's, will require a tax rate of 96.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, down 2.5 cents from this year's 99-cent rate.

Last night's session capped a series of four budget hearings in which $12,500 was sliced from the city manager's original proposal.

Although the council added $7,500 to Bielser's original fiscal plan to finance a tax rate election for public acquisition of the historic Robert Dollar mansion, the city was able to reduce overall spending by $12,500 by allocating $20,000 in increased federal funding to its reserves.

Bielser explained last night that the city expects $160,000 more than originally anticipated as the government's share of the Miracle Mile road widening project. The city expects to pay only $80,000 of the $750,000 project.

The council endorsed Bielser's recommendation that $20,000 of the federal windfall be placed in reserves and that the remaining $140,000 be allocated to the gas tax street improvement program. The council boosted expenditures for the street maintenance portion of the program from $130,000 to $230,000, allocated $30,000 for traffic lights on A Street at Second and Third streets, and boosted the Freitas Parkway improvement account from $10,000 to $20,000.

The council also approved a $10,000 allocation for raised pavement markers as proposed in the $370,000 gas tax program.

Other highlights of last night's session were a $50,000 allocation for expansion of the main library and $50,000 for purchase of a 1.7-acre parcel near St. Isabella's Church envisioned as a branch library and park site.

Other capital improvement accounts in Bielser's $349,867 capital improvement program approved by the council were: storm drainage pumping stations, $14,000; geological survey of the San Rafael Canal and Irwin Creek, $9,000; sidewalk replacement program, $10,000; storm drainage work, $25,000; park improvements, $12,867; Terra Linda recreation center improvements, $14,000; downtown recreation center, $55,000; Albert Park renovation, $55,000; Peacock Gap recreational area, $15,000; Davidson School improvements, $5,000; architectural services for city hall expansion, $10,000; water main replacement, $23,000, and fire alarm system, $2,000.

Officer's Notes In Crowe Melee Can't Be Located

By GEORGE NEVIN

A policeman's missing notes figured prominently in testimony yesterday at the assault trial of former Fairfax Town Administrator Robert E. Crowe.

The prosecution rested its case and the defense called two witnesses as the trial concluded its third day yesterday, although Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas said he may call one more witness.

Crowe is charged with felony assault on 19-year-old Kenneth M. Davidson during a brawl March 6.

The notes, which back up a defense contention that Davidson wanted to hit Crowe with a beer bottle in the melee cannot be located, officer Joseph R. Mannella testified.

Both the teen-ager, and his mother, Dorothy Davidson, have testified that Davidson never told Mannella he left a party at the house of councilman Frank J. Egger to walk up Meadow Way and hit Crowe with a bottle.

The point is crucial because the outcome of the case could depend on which of the two struck the first blow.

The defense claims that Davidson broke the bottle over Crowe's head first.

Thomas contends, however, that Crowe first hit Davidson in the small of the back with a double-bladed ax.

In yet another revelation yesterday, Thomas told Judge

Israeli Planes Resume Attacks On Lebanese Guerrilla Outposts

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Israeli warplanes attacked Palestinian guerrilla bases in the border region of southeast Lebanon for the third time in 16 hours today and a Beirut publication said the Israelis appeared to be conducting a "scorched earth policy" there.

The Israeli attacks —apparently delayed during President Nixon's visit to Israel Sunday and Monday —brought a warning from Egypt that the attacks could wreck Nixon's Middle East peace efforts and provoke another round of warfare.

There were no reports of casualties in today's dawn attack. Press reports said one guerrilla was killed and several wounded and at least four Lebanese civilians, including one child, were wounded in yesterday's raids.

While Israeli planes hit Lebanon today, the Israeli parliament gave Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin his first vote of confidence after an angry debate on the U.S. decision to give nuclear reactors to Egypt. The vote was 60-50. Rabin himself expressed fear Egypt would use the nuclear technology for military purposes.

Egypt took the bombings to the U.N. Security Council yesterday and heard a reply from Israel that it is duty bound to defend itself against aggression from Lebanese soil and will continue to take measures to "foil terrorist attacks" into Israeli border settlements.

The Israeli raids resumed yesterday about the time Nixon was leaving Jordan on his return to the United States. They presumably were in retaliation for a guerrilla attack that killed three women at Shamir a week ago.

The Arab World, a daily press summary and news commentary published in Beirut, said in two raids yesterday which preceded this morning's attack, the Israeli planes caused heavy damage to farms.

"The Israeli aircraft deliberately set fire to farms, apparently in fulfilment of threats made earlier by Israeli leaders to undertake scorched earth policy against south Lebanon if alleged guerrilla activity from there continued," the Arab World said.

Refusal Of Parole Baffles Officials

LONDON (UPI) — Last year 768 convicts in British jails refused to be considered for parole, the Home Office said.

Officials announced an investigation to discover why prisoners preferred to stay in jail.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Filibuster Looms On Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Finance chairman Russell Long says a Senate filibuster against tax reform amendments "is picking up steam."

Long

Aided by Republicans, oil state senators and conservatives, Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., has successfully blocked consideration of liberal-sponsored tax measures which would, among other things, end the oil depletion allowance and cut individual income taxes.

A pending debt ceiling bill had seemed the best vehicle for forcing through the amendments because it must become law by midnight June 30, but Allen and his allies apparently will be able to thwart these plans.

"I hadn't expected a filibuster, a dug-in filibuster," said Long. "If anything, the filibuster is picking up steam. . ."

Two separate cloture votes were scheduled for late today, but passage of either would not guarantee consideration of the tax amendments. One actually represented a complicated parliamentary maneuver to kill the tax amendments.

Tests Attacked

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

New Zealand unions announced a partial embargo against French shipping today and a major Australian union called for a consumer boycott of French products to protest France's nuclear tests in the South Pacific.

The federation of labor in New Zealand said the embargo, similar to the one announced yesterday by Australian maritime unions, will last until France concludes the present series of atmospheric tests.

The French atomic blasts in the atmosphere began Monday over Mururoa Atoll, a tiny island 500 miles southeast of Tahiti.

Tom Skinner, president of the New Zealand trade unions, said in Wellington the federation would also make strong protests to India and China over their nuclear tests.

More Plants Shut

DETROIT (UPI) — The Ford Motor Co. closed three more assembly plants today, bringing to 22,750 the number of workers idled because of a week-old strike that has interrupted the flow of parts from a key Illinois stamping plant.

With the closing of car plants at Atlanta, Ga., and Loraine, Ohio, and the Michigan truck plant at Wayne, Mich., nine of Ford's 20 North American assembly plants will be closed before the end of the week.

Negotiations between Ford and United Auto Workers local 588 resumed yesterday on the eighth day of the strike by some 4,000 workers at the Chicago Heights plant. It turns out hoods, doors and roofs used on almost every Ford car as well as 80 per cent of Ford truck body parts.

The interrupted production comes as Ford is beginning to recover from the winter sales slump and will halt deliveries.

New Bombing Wave

BELFAST (UPI) — The Irish Republican Army, in a renewal of its campaign to force British withdrawal from the six counties of Northern Ireland, exploded a new series of bombs across the province today.

Army authorities counted 16 bombs in a 36-hour period, including some of the biggest ever exploded in Northern Ireland. A spokesman said four bombs exploded or were defused in the 12 hours up to 11 a.m. today. Three of them went off and one was rendered harmless, the spokesman said. There were no casualties.

The IRA claimed responsibility for the wave of attacks in towns and cities across Northern Ireland which have taken one life and caused extensive property damage since the campaign was renewed late Monday.

Rocket Attacks

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist gunners fired three 107mm rockets into the capital today, striking an army camp near the presidential palace.

Three other 107mm rockets were fired into the city last night and one landed within 200 yards of the American Embassy.

Authorities said five were killed and 25 wounded.

The Chinese-built rockets struck shortly after noon today. A military dependent was wounded when one rocket hit the camp of the first infantry division west of the Chamcar Mon presidential palace, authorities said.

Two others struck the southwest section of Phnom Penh, killing one civilian and wounding six others, authorities said.

Loses Her Seat

MOSCOW (UPI) — Culture Minister Yekaterina Furtseva, reprimanded by Soviet authorities for building a lavish country home outside Moscow, lost her seat in the Supreme Soviet today.

Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, published today a complete list of the unopposed slate of 1,517 candidates elected Sunday to the Supreme Soviet, a parliament that automatically approves directives of the Kremlin leadership.

Mrs. Furtseva's name was absent from the list of candidates.

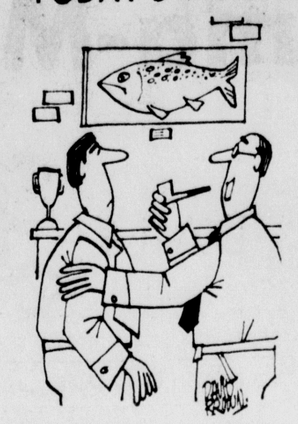
Some Soviet sources have suggested recently that Mrs. Furtseva also will be replaced as culture minister, but this has not been confirmed.

Mrs. Furtseva, 64, is the highest ranking woman in the government.

Economic Plea

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu today urged the South Vietnamese army to help boost the national economy by cutting down on the use of ammunition and war materials.

TODAY'S WORLD



"I caught it despite tremendous odds – the gas shortage, $520 for the resort, and my wife complaining the whole trip."

His Revenge Will Be Sweet

OROVILLE (UPI) — Douglas Esmond found a sweet way of getting revenge against gasoline thieves.

Someone stole a five-gallon can of gasoline from his pickup truck two weeks ago while it was parked at his home here.

Esmond told sheriff's deputies Monday that he put another five-gallon can of gasoline in the back of his truck and added several pounds of sugar. The can was taken from his truck. Deputies were looking for a vehicle with a gummed-up engine.

World Food Plan Asked In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., today proposed a new $20 billion a year international food effort —Plowshares for Peace —to prevent mass starvation among the world's hungry.

He also called on President Nixon and Secretary of State Kissinger to "place the great world food and population problems at the top of their agenda" in their travels.

McGovern's proposal came at the opening of three days of Senate hearings on developing a national nutrition policy. He is chairman of the Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs.

Although the plight of America's hungry, including those forced to eat dog and cat food for lack of money, will be examined at the hearings, the major focus will be on international food and population problems and the U.S. role in alleviating them.

Dr. Jean Mayer, the Harvard nutritionist who organized the Senate hearings as he did the 1969 White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, made that clear at a Senate reception last night.

MARSHAL G. K. ZHUKOV
Hero of Stalingrad

'Eisenhower Of Russia,' Zhukov, Dies

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union announced today the death of Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, its most famous military commander who turned the Nazi tide at Stalingrad and then led the nation's forces to victory in World War II.

Defense ministry officials said Zhukov, who died yesterday afternoon in a Kremlin hospital at age 77, will be buried Friday. They gave no details but a state funeral would be normal for a man of Zhukov's rank.

The official Soviet news agency Tass, in a six-paragraph dispatch, announced the death of Zhukov, called "the Eisenhower of Russia" who won stunning victories at the gates of Moscow and captured Berlin but fell from power in the inner chambers of the Kremlin.

Zhukov's death was reported by unofficial Soviet sources last night. But official confirmation did not come until today when the Defense Ministry informed foreign military attaches.

The unofficial sources said Zhukov suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday.

He had been hospitalized since December, a short time after making his last known public appearance at the funeral of his 47-year-old second wife who died of cancer.

During Zhukov's stormy career, the military planner climbed to the upper reaches of power in the Soviet Union. But he was denounced as a coward by dictator Josef V. Stalin after his stunning World War II victories.

The late Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev rehabilitated Zhukov as defense minister but then fired him three months later for "Bonapartism."

Born Dec. 2, 1896, in a peasant village in central Russia, the 5-foot-6-inch, blue-eyed Zhukov first served with the cavalry. He walked with slightly bowed legs of a horseman the rest of his life.

He soon realized tanks had outmoded the horse and rose quickly through the ranks of senior Soviet officers thinned by the Stalinist purges. He became chief of staff in 1941 when Nazi forces were bludgeoning the Russia's Western front.

In addition to routing the Nazis from Moscow in 1941 and capturing Berlin in 1945, he had a key role in virtually every major battle involving the Red Army.

Rohnert Park Orders Well Dug To Study City Water Supply

A $45,000 test well, to be drilled as part of a water availability study, has been authorized by the Rohnert Park City Council.

The study is to determine how much water is available in the rock structures beneath the city. The well, approved Monday, will be used to study methods of pumping the water from the ground more efficiently.

After debating whether the well is essential to the water study, the council decided to drill it and seek state funds to help offset the cost. State geological agencies have agreed to help finance the water study although they have not offered funds for the well itself.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

SPEED LIMIT — Lowered from 35 to 30 miles per hour the speed limit on Commerce Boulevard between Southwest Boulevard and the Rohnert Park Expressway.

FUNDS — Granted a request from Founders Day Committee chairman Chester Crowley for $2,036 to finance a fireworks display, parade and other activities for the celebration Sept. 7-9.

GYMNASIUM — Agreed to ask the recreation commission to hold a public hearing on a plan to use revenue sharing funds for a community gymnasium. City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said a multiple use structure could be built for about $150,000. The city may ask the Petaluma High School District to participate in the venture.

CONTRACT — Awarded Argonaut Constructors of Santa Rosa a $11,449 contract to connect a water main at the end of Beverly Drive to one along Lancaster Drive. Argonaut was the lower of two bidders.

Fall Kills Woman At English Landmark

LAND'S END, England (UPI) — Holly Sally Kirwin, 23, of South Bend, Ind. slipped while studying rock formations and fell 100 feet off a cliff to her death yesterday.

Police said Miss Kirwin lost her footing and disappeared over the edge halfway down a cliff path she was descending with her brother, Terry, 20.

Open Space Bond Ballot Favored

The Novato Environmental Quality Committee has endorsed a city plan to put an open space bond measure on the November ballot.

The bond issue was proposed at an open space workshop June 8, but no amount was specified.

The committee Monday night also recommended that the open space map, created by the Novato Citizens Open Space Committee, be included in the Novato General Plan.

Two Quizzed In Murder At Quentin

Two suspects were being questioned today by San Quentin authorities in connection with the bloody murder yesterday of a convict found dead in his cell about 8 a.m.

Marion Luther Turner, who died of multiple wounds, had been stabbed 22 times in the front and back of his torso, according to the Marin County coroner's office.

Officials said Turner had had breakfast about 7:15 a.m. and then returned to his open cell in the North Block of the prison. His body was found by a correctional officer.

There were bloody tracks leading from his cell, prison officials said, and a rolled up prison jacket with two prison-made knives in it was found on a gun rail nearby.

Turner originally was sent to prison for a second degree robbery conviction from Ventura County and then returned on a parole violation involving fraudulent use of a credit card in Santa Cruz County. He had been at San Quentin since last August.

No motive was known for his slaying, officials said.

Turner, a native of Arizona, was a Caucasian.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Daphne Funerals in Corte Madera.

Turner was the fourth convict slain this year in prison violence.

Tax Hike Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Board of Supervisors has received an appeal by Yellow Cab Co. for trip increases of 15 per cent.

Anticrime Brochure Next Week

Independent-Journal newspaper boys will distribute 16,000 copies of the San Rafael Police Department's new crime prevention manual to San Rafael homes on Saturday, a department spokesman said yesterday.

The 128-page manual, developed by Sgt. David H. Jones, includes detailed information on burglary prevention, proper locks and security devices, bicycle safety and babysitting tips, among others.

The manual also describes various crimes ranging from shoplifting, credit card fraud, and auto theft to malicious mischief and drug abuse.

Additional copies of the manuals will be available at city fire stations and police headquarters at city hall.

Distribution of the manual will kick off "burglary prevention week" in the city, according to Police Chief Joseph J. Brusatori.

Brusatori, noting that the city logged 660 burglaries last year, offered these tips to prevent the crime:

1. Close and lock all doors, using pin-tumbler cylinder locks on outside entrances and safety latches on windows, and install an inexpensive burglary alarm system.
2. Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off automatically when not at home for extended periods.
3. Keep valuables out of view and preferably in a safety deposit box.
4. Notify the police department when going on a trip and cancel all deliveries and have a neighbor or the post office hold mail.
5. Leave shades and blinds in normal positions to create a "lived in" look.
6. Have a friend mow the lawn, sweep sidewalks and collect circulars and other throwaway advertising when on extended vacations.
7. Never advertise an absence, holiday or vacation in the local newspaper.

Coast Skeleton Find Identified

A skull and bones found by a swimmer in Seadrift Lagoon Monday are those of a missing 21-year-old Marin County man, the county coroner's office reported today.

Identification, which the coroner is withholding until next of kin can be notified, was made through checks of dental records. The dead man's father reportedly is en route to the U.S. from London. Whereabouts of his mother are unknown.

The coroner estimated that the young man died in 1971, apparently in an accident.

Youngster Terry Balkwell of Fremont made the grisly discovery while swimming with friends near the end of a boat dock at Stinson Beach. The find was reported to Assistant Stinson Beach Fire Chief John Gray.

Inmate Tells Of Cell Life

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A San Quentin inmate has testified that his cell in the prison adjustment center gets flooded with water, "sometimes two and three nights in a row."

Inmate John Spain made the statement Tuesday in U.S. District Court.

Spain and five other inmates are charging that confinement in the San Quentin Adjustment Center is unconstitutional because it is cruel and unusual punishment.

There were bloodstains on Spain's jacket as he testified. He said he was cut by prison guards who forcibly shaved him before his court appearance.

Electric Kettle Hazard Charged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader's Health Research Group said yesterday hundreds of thousands of electric tea kettles should be recalled since they contain a lead poisoning hazard.

In a letter to the Consumer Product Safety Commission, the group said the soft lead solder along the seams caused sickness in two small Canadian children which led Canada on June 6 to ban the sale and advertising of these brands: Sunbeam, Samson Dominion, McGraw-Edison, Westinghouse Kenmore, Viking, Baycrest, Jubilee and Filtro.

Puppy Match Saturday At San Rafael School

More than 600 puppies of almost 100 breeds will be shown and judged Saturday at Vallecito School in San Rafael in the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club's confirmation and obedience match. Spectator admission is free.

The event will be from 9 a.m. to late afternoon, and is sanctioned by the American Kennel Club. The Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club will maintain a booth to provide information for spectators and exhibitors.

Arrested Man Not A Novatan

Billie Landers Robinson, 42, who was arrested Monday on suspicion of drunken driving and assault with a deadly weapon, does not live at 40 Pebble Beach Drive, Novato as reported in Monday's Independent-Journal.

Robinson gave that address to sheriff's deputies while being booked. He actually lives at 535 Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael, according to the sheriff's department.

Architectural Panel Vacancies Are Filled

The Mill Valley City Council has appointed three new members to the city's architectural advisory committee named were: John Shenefield, of 255 Greene Street; Nona Dennis, of 69 Marlin Avenue, and Clifford E. Hanssen of 24 Longfellow Road.

The appointments announced Monday are replacements for committee members Janet Mountjoy, whose term is expiring; Robert M. Tanaka, who resigned because of personal business reasons, and Kalvin J. Platt, who has been appointed to the planning commission.

Senators Confirm Two Ambassadors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate confirmed by voice vote today the nomination of James D. Hodgson as new U.S. ambassador to Japan.

Also confirmed was the nomination of David E. Mark as ambassador to Burundi.

Final Showdown On Strip Mining Looms

By MONTY HOYT
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

WASHINGTON — Forces are lining up for a final showdown on the future of strip mining in the U.S. — and the role of coal in the nation's efforts to achieve "energy independence."

After more than a year of hearings and deliberations, the House Interior Committee voted out a bill recently 26-15, to regulate all surface mining operations.

This sets the stage for a House floor battle next month, as soon as the committee report is filed and the go-ahead given by the rules committee.

Differences between the House version and a Senate bill (passed Oct. 9) could be ironed out and sent to the President before the end of August.

Coal and mining industries, electric utilities, and several federal agencies indicate the House bill "would be impossible to live with."

Carl E. Bagge, president of the National Coal Association, called the surface mining bill "an inflated and needless price" which "will not regulate mining but prevent it." He labeled it a "wasteful sacrifice for environmental protection" which the states and coal operators already are achieving.

On the other side, the coalition against strip mining (20 environmental and farm groups) said the measure would mean "business as usual for the coal companies." They decry what they consider the weak interim provision of the bill — which could extend as long as 40 months after passage and would leave most present mining operations unchanged.

Louise Dunlap, coordinator of the coalition, said: "It is a question of where coal development is going to be located. A weak bill will only accelerate the shift from the deep-mining areas in the East to the strippable areas in the West."

Strip mining accounts for half of the 600 million tons of coal produced in the U.S. last year. Although coal made up only 18 per cent of the nation's total energy needs, it accounted for some 54 per cent of the fuel consumed by electric companies.

Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton, the Federal Energy Office and the White House have called for an expanded energy role for the country's abundant coal reserves.

The coal industry, however, says the message to surface-mine operators from the House bill is just the opposite: "Don't try to expand; get out of the business."

Congressman John Melcher, D-Mont., who supports strong strip-mining legislation said: "The bill will not put any coal strip-mining operation out of business that takes the time, effort, and expense for the reclamation of the land and protection of the water."

Chief among the controversial provisions of the House bill as it now stands is an article requiring strip-mining operators to restore the land to its "approximate original contour." This would eliminate all high walls of wastes cut from the earth to get at coal seams. Also, depositing spoils down slopes would be prohibited.

Such restrictions may make it impossible to mine in more than 50 per cent of the strippable areas, the coal industry argues.

"This is another case of the coal industry yelling wolf," Louise Dunlap retorts. "Pennsylvania outlawed highwalls in 1964; West Virginia still refuses to outlaw them. Yet Pennsylvania now exceeds West Virginia in strip-mining production.

Other provisions in the bill would allow states to designate lands that are "unsuitable, for surface mining" — those where reclamation is not physically or economically achievable or that are considered "fragile or historic lands."

Prosecutor May Quit To Back Brother

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — An Alameda County prosecutor will quit or seek a leave of absence if it is necessary to help defend his brother charged with shooting a policeman.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Archie Briggs told newsmen at the Hall of Justice yesterday that he felt his brother, Ivory, 38, was innocent.

The suspect pleaded innocent at his arraignment before Municipal Judge Agnes O'Brien Smith who set July 1 for a hearing. Briggs was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and being an ex-convict who carried a gun.

Briggs was accused of shooting motorcycle patrolman Robert Hooper of Novato at point-blank range last Friday. The officer escaped injury only because he was wearing a bullet-proof vest.

Hooper said he wore the vest to avoid injuries in case of a spill.

Ballroom Dance Course Offered

An eight-week class in beginning ballroom dancing will begin at the Kenilworth Recreation Center in Petaluma at 8 p.m. Monday. It is sponsored by the city recreation department.

A spokesman said the class includes instruction in the waltz, cha-cha, Rhumba and fox trot.

Stann Creamer of the Stann Dance studio in Santa Rosa will teach the course, which is open to couples only. More information is available at the recreation office in city hall.

Plea Entered In Drug Case

A San Anselmo woman pleaded guilty today to possessing hashish sent to her home from Pakistan, and was fined $500 and placed on one year's probation.

Sentenced was Diana Carolyn Meyer, 25. Her husband, Malcolm Stuart Meyer, 30, a construction foreman, also pleaded guilty to a drug charge, possessing hashish for sale, and superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson set his sentencing for July 1.

The couple was arrested in March after accepting delivery of two pounds, 11 ounces of hashish, which postal authorities had intercepted in New York.

Orchestra Overture A Little Too Hot?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Firemen answered an alarm at Symphony Hall in the Atlanta Memorial Art Center here last night. But it was a false alarm.

A spokesman said the sensitive fire alarm equipment was set off by a performance of Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture," directed by Robert Shaw.

OBITUARIES

Nennie Jacobsen, 83, Dies

Funeral for Nennie Jacobsen of Penngrove, a longtime resident of Southern Sonoma County, will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma.

Mrs. Jacobsen, 83, died in a local hospital Monday after a brief illness.

She was a native of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara County, and moved to Southern Sonoma in 1911.

Mrs. Jacobsen and her late husband, Ernest Jacobsen, operated farms in the Two Rock and San Antonio Creek areas for many years until his death in 1967.

Mrs. Jacobsen is survived by a son, Harold Jacobsen of Petaluma; three daughters, Evelyn Evans of Penngrove, Eleanor Evart of Hayward and Hazel Andresen of Petaluma; a sister, Mrs. Ernest Wineman, two brothers, Raymond Nelson of Santa Maria and Oliver Nelson of Arroyo Grande in San Luis Obispo County, 12 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma.

The family prefers contributions to favorite charities.

SYDNEY RHODES

Private family funeral will be tomorrow for Sydney H. Rhodes, head of an export company and a resident of Mill Valley since 1929.

He died Monday in a Sacramento hospital after a brief illness. He was 86.

Rhodes was active in international trade from the age of 14, when he entered the foreign trade department of a Lancashire textile mill in his native England.

For several decades — from 1930 to the mid 1950s — he was export manager concurrently for Hills Brothers Coffee and for Parrott and Co.

At his death he was board chairman of P.J. Rhodes and Co., a San Francisco based export company.

In the World War I he served with the Scottish Black Watch regiment in France and Greece.

Rhodes is survived by his wife, Stella Rhodes, a son, Peter Rhodes of Mill Valley, a daughter, Peggy Lemmon of Citrus Heights, Sacramento County, 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Friends may call from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. today or from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

TALLIE MAULE

Funeral for Tallie B. Maule, San Francisco architect and brother of Chester R. Maule of Lagunitas, was held today in San Francisco.

Maule, 56, of San Francisco, died Monday.

He was born and reared in Oklahoma. He owned his own firm, Tallie B. Maule and Associates in San Francisco and also was the chief architect for the Bay Area Rapid Transit, designing stations.

Maule also is survived by his wife, Vivienne Maule of the home; a daughter, Sara Maule of New York; a sister, Mrs. Allen D. Lowman of Louisiana and two other brothers, Donald R. Maule of Oklahoma and Dr. Quentin Maule of New York.

Memorial contributions to a favorite charity are preferred by the family.

OLIVER JONES

Oliver Jones of Berkeley, a professional singer and the father of Byron Jones of San Rafael, died yesterday in a Glen County hospital after a brief illness. He was 77.

A native of South Wales, Jones came to Berkeley 45 years ago. He sang for Bay Area radio stations during the 1930's and during that period also sang bass for the San Francisco Opera Company and performed Gilbert and Sullivan character roles for various theater groups.

A highlight of Jones' career was a benefit performance for the late president Herbert Hoover in New York City in 1953.

Jones is also survived by two daughters, Mair Tramel of Orland in Glenn County and Gwenellen Pemberton of Walnut Creek; a brother, Irvyn Jones and a sister, Gladys Lee, both of Wales, and eight grandchildren.

Memorial service will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the First United Presbyterian Church in Oakland. Inurnment will be at the Chapel of Chimes in Piedmont.

SCOTT SMITH

Funeral for Scott Allen Smith of Petaluma will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Parent Funeral Chapel.

Smith, a 16-year-old San Antonio High School student, drowned June 8 while swimming with relatives in the Trinity River near Weaverville.

He was born in Eureka and spent most of his life in Southern Sonoma. His home was at 513 Jefferson Street.

Smith attended McKinley Elementary School and Kenilworth Junior High School.

He is survived by his parents, Albert Smith and Lillian Worrell, both of Petaluma; three brothers, Craig, Tim, and Erick Smith, all of Petaluma; a sister, Kathy Worrell of Santa Rosa, and two stepbrothers, Darrell and Darnell Kostner of Petaluma.

Private burial will be in Cypress Hill Memorial Park.

MRS. FORMAN

Dorothea Warrin Forman of Corte Madera died Monday at her home, according to the Marin County coroner's office. She had been ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Forman was born and reared in New York and came to Marin only recently. She resided at 471 Montecito Drive.

She is survived by a daughter, Joyce Perry of Corte Madera.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Daphne Funerals, Corte Madera.

IRENE McCABE

Busing Foe Tries Filing As Answer

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) — Irene McCabe, the anti-busing leader who gained national attention in 1972 by walking to Washington with five other housewives, has decided to carry her fight into the political ring.

Mrs. McCabe yesterday filed nominating petitions for a seat on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners as a Democrat with the intention of running for the U.S. Senate in 1976 if there is no anti-busing law or constitutional amendment by that time.

"After four years of being on the outside with no success, I've decided to get involved right in the political arena, as distasteful as it will be," the Pontiac housewife said.

Mrs. McCabe said she filed on the Democratic ticket because the party is associated with a pro-busing posture and it needs more people to advocate the neighborhood schools concept.

Mrs. McCabe must face Democratic incumbent Niles Olsen in the August primary.

She said if no anti-busing law or constitutional amendment is passed in the next two years she will then run for the seat of Sen. Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., in 1976.

"Senator Hart was responsible for the defeat of an antibusing amendment twice in a row," she said. "That really hurt after four years of work. Hart is representing a state that has displayed on countless occasions massive resistance to busing, but he votes his own preference.

"I consider this wrong, arrogant, and I promise in two years if we do not have a good piece of anti-busing legislation or an anti-busing amendment, I will run for his seat and I will run hard."

Mrs. McCabe led a 620-mile walk from Pontiac to Washington in 1972 to attract attention to the fight against courtordered school busing.

Murder Trial After 15 Years

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — It has been more than 15 years but now it appears that Evelyn Bormes, 54, Spokane, will be brought to trial for first degree murder in the death of a small child in 1958.

Police officers arrested Mrs. Bormes on the charge in connection with the death of 3-year-old Antoinette Klobucher, daughter of local attorney and Mrs. John M. Klobucher.

Mrs. Bormes had been held at Eastern State Hospital since she was originally arrested a decade and a half ago on the charge because she was declared mentally incompetent to stand trial.

Psychiatrists now say, however, that Mrs. Bormes is able to go to court now.

She was on parole from the mental hospital at the time of the killing Dec. 11, 1958.

Antisex Rules: Colleges Won't Have To Find Girl Grid Stars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grade school boys and girls soon may be attending sex education classes together, but colleges won't have to recruit coeds for their football teams.

Those are just two examples of how proposed antisex discrimination rules announced yesterday by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare would affect more than 16,000 public school systems and 2,500 colleges and universities.

Covering admissions, treatment of students and employment at all educational levels, the federal regulations required by a two-year-old law are open for public comment until Oct. 15 and probably will not receive final presidential approval before the year's end.

While noting that the long-delayed rules have raised "some understandable concerns," HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger told a news conference the government will seek voluntary compliance first before moving to cut off federal funds from institutions in violation.

Here are some examples of activites that would be prohibited under the rules:

Colleges could not offer athletic scholarships exclusively to males, but would not necessarily have to provide an identical number or dollar amount of scholarships or grants in aid to female athletes.

Elementary and secondary schools could not segregate the sexes in physical education and sex education classes, but could provide separate showers in physical education.

Medical and law schools could not set sex-based admissions quotas or set higher entrance standards for females than for males.

Colleges could not provide "substantial support or assistance" to any campus organization, such as hiking club, fraternity or sorority, that discriminates against one sex.

Different dormitory curfews could not be established for one sex, and facilities, including fees and availability of janitorial services, must be equal.

The Education Amendments of 1972 authoritzed the rules barring sex discrimination from kindergarten through graduate school.

Five Killed

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — A bus overturned and plunged 60 feet off a cliff yesterday. Police said five persons were killed and 28 injured.

LEO McCARTHY
Behind the scenes

Dark Horse New Leader Of Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Leo McCarthy is a new name and new face to most Californians, but he comes to the speakership of the Assembly with 15 years experience in California politics.

The soft-spoken, 44-year-old McCarthy narrowly defeated flamboyant Willie Brown, another Democratic assemblyman from San Francisco, in a vote yesterday among Assembly Democrats.

Brown then reluctantly threw his support to McCarthy, promising a unanimous vote of the Democratic majority June 27 to elect McCarthy to the post generally seen as second in power only to the governor.

McCarthy, articulate and professional in manner, has worked behind the scenes in California politics for 15 years. He is generally credited with an ability to bring warring factions together in compromise.

The New Zealand-born son of an Irish Immigrant worked as an administrative assistant to the late state Sen. Eugene McAteer of San Francisco from 1959 until 1963. Then he was elected at age 33 to the San Francisco County Board of Supervisors.

In 1968, he was elected to the Assembly. During most of the six years since then, McCarthy attracted little statewide press attention. Although conservative in manner, McCarthy has a generally liberal voting record and has enjoyed strong labor support.

During the Moretti era, McCarthy has supported most of the speaker's programs and is not expected to make a radical departure from the general thrust of Moretti's policies.

To achieve his win McCarthy came from behind. For months, the speculation was that Brown would take over after Moretti stepped down.

Meanwhile, McCarthy, an attorney who graduated from the University of San Francisco and San Francisco Law School, kept working quietly to cement his votes.

When he won, he was pretty much of an unknown even among the Capitol press corps. Where had he come from?

McCarthy has been a San Francisco resident since age 4. He was raised in San Francisco's Mission District. He now represents the more affluent western region of the city, which stretches from the Golden Gate Bridge along the city's Pacific Ocean beaches to the San Mateo County line.

He will be the first San Franciscan to hold the Assembly's top job since Republican Edgar Levey was speaker from 1927 through 1931.

McCarthy has a reputation as a hard worker and an effective negotiator.

He was one of a dozen legislators who negotiated for three weeks with Gov. Ronald Reagan in 1971 on provisions of a major welfare reform. But most of the attention was focused on Reagan and Bob Moretti.

Sausalito Teachers Win 8.2 pct. Raise

Sausalito School District trustees have reached agreement with district teachers on an 8.2 salary increase for 1974-75, Supt. Donald W. Johnson announced.

The accord, hammered out during closed discussions Monday, ends negotations underway since April.

No information was available on how much the salary hike for the district's 37 teachers will cost, but the increase is not expected to affect the district tax rate, Johnson said. Trustees will discuss the district's proposed 1974-75 budget at a meeting Monday.

The agreement also includes boosts in retirement contributions and other fringe benefits totaling 3 per cent.

Teachers originally had asked for a 14 per cent pay hike.

In other business, trustees named Juanita Gaskins principal of Bayside School for 1974-75. Mrs. Gaskins, presently acting principal, will be paid $17,418 per year, an increase of $837 over her current salary.

Fight Erupts At The Altar

GELA, Italy (UPI) — Fistfights broke out inside a church yesterday when two couples tried to beat each other to the altar in an effort to get married first.

Through an oversight, two weddings had been scheduled at the same time. First the couples argued, and then the scuffled ensued when neither would yield.

Police finally arrived and calmed the fray, letting Angelo Virbani and Rosa Caci exchange their vows just a few moments ahead of Salvatore Ianni and Annamari Martorana.

Two Die In Collision Of Auto, Cement Truck

A Berkeley man and a Vallejo woman were killed yesterday when their car collided with a cement truck on Highway 37 at its intersection with Highway 121 in Sonoma County.

Dead are the driver, Don Allan Robbins, 28, an Alameda County appraiser, and his passenger, Margaret A. McCaul, 23, a social worker for Napa County. Robbins was dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital and Miss McCaul died at Marin General Hospital shortly after the crash.

The California Highway Patrol said Robbins was turning left from Highway 121 onto Highway 37 and apparently pulled into the path of the westbound cement truck. The truck driver, Carl Frederick Buttke of Petaluma, was not injured.

The crash occurred at 8 p.m.

The jumping mouse, a small rodent found in Florida, is often injured because it can jump farther than it can see. The mice are nearsighted.

Prison Term Ordered For Hit-Run Death Of Banker

Woodrow Wilson Fitzsimmons, convicted last month of hit-and-run and manslaughter in the death of a San Anselmo bank official, has been ordered to surrender himself Saturday to begin a one-to-five year prison term.

Superior Court Judge Charles Read Best gave Fitzsimmons the sentence last week on the felony hit-run count on which a jury convicted him May 24.

On the misdemeanor manslaughter count, Best gave the 30-year-old auto body worker one year in jail, but said he would cancel that sentence if Fitzsimmons completes his prison term.

Best also ordered the Fairfax man to pay $1,200 a year for three years to the widow of Harmen Evers, 40, who was run down and killed while bicycling on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard In San Anselmo last November.

The money is to be used for the education of Evers' daughter, born one month after the Bank of America vice president was killed.

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Monday that Fitzsimmons was to be sentenced Friday on the two convictions.

Fitzsimmons also was given 10 days in jail and two years' probation for hitting a sheriff's deputy at county jail in February.

Deposed Leader Visits Damascus

CAIRO (UPI) — Abdel Rahman Iryani, the deposed president of the Arab Yemen Republic, was in Damascus today. The Middle East News Agency said he arrived yesterday from Sana.

Iryani, who was chairman of the Republican Council, was dismissed Monday following a bloodless coup in which Col. Ibrahim Al Hamidi took over as president of the command council.

Quoting Radio Sana, the agency said Hamidi, Premier Hassan Makki and high-ranking officials saw Iryani off at Sana airport.

Civil Rights Leader Portrait Is Damaged

ATLANTA (UPI) — Officials say no serious damage was done to the portrait of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in the state capitol and that the indentation and two small markings on the painting will be repaired "in a matter of days."

"We've been assured that it will be cleaned up and put back in place in a matter of a few days," said Jody Powell, the governor's press secretary.

JUST TOO DAWGED TIRED

California Farm Pay Said High

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California farm workers earned $2.65 an hour, or 46 cents more than the national average for agricultural laborers, according to a survey released yesterday.

The survey, conducted during the second week in April and released by the California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, was based on the "payrolls of selected farms."

The reporting service said California farm wage rates broken down showed all hired farm workers earned $2.67; by piece rate $2.93; by hour only $2.51; by hour, day, week or month $2.65; and by cash wages only $2.68.

Town Receives A Soapy Shower

CHICKASAW, Ala. (UPI) — This Southwest Alabama town received a soap and water shower yesterday. They expected another today.

The light brown and gray flakes, thought at first to be snow flakes, piled up in drifts after a shower that lasted more than an hour.

Eben Burns, an engineer with the Mobile County Health Department, said the flakes were nontoxic soap flakes picked up by the wind from a secondary water treatment facility.

The facility, a lake with agitators, churned up the flakes from residue from an International Paper Co. plant.

New Threat By Striking Nurses

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Striking nurses, accusing hospitals of "misusing our goodwill," have threatened to reduce the number of nurses assigned to emergency rooms and intensive care units during the walkout now in its 13th day.

Officials of the California Nurses Association said last night that a decision would probably be made today after a survey of the 41 struck hospitals in the San Francisco Bay Area and Sacramento.

A CNA spokesman said he had reliable reports strikers, working under a voluntary agreement on a rotation basis, were being used in the critical hospital areas to free supervisory personnel to perform "unnecessary" duties. He said, "The hospitals are misusing our goodwill."

About 4,400 nurses were on the picket lines. However, the hospitals were operating at only a 50 per cent patient population, and there were no serious problems reported.

A pivotal issue in the strike was a demand by CNA that nurses be allowed to participate in the staffing decisions at the hospitals. The hospitals said this was the responsibility of doctors and the administrations themselves.

Negotiations under the guidance of the state Conciliation Service were broken off the past weekend with no new date set for further bargaining. However, state Industrial Relations Director Ed White yesterday sent telegrams to both sides asking for an immediate resumption of talks.

Representatives of the hospital associations rejected a three-pronged proposal from the CNA for settlement of the strike. The hospitals said the proposal was "unnecessary, time consuming, counter productive and unacceptable."

CNA President Irene Pope said the strike would be over if the hospitals agreed to mediation arbitration, to bargain in the presence of a citizens' committee and to allow federal mediator William J. Ussery to participate in all talks.

Novato Will Do Policing At Hamilton

Novato will provide some police protection to Hamilton Air Force Base housing beginning July 1.

Councilmen were reluctant last night to provide the protection requested by the Navy, which will take over military housing at the base and Raphael Village on that date.

Police chief John C. Coleman reported that City Atty. Clark M. Palmer has said the city is required to provide the protection.

Councilmen voted 4-to-1 to police the base "on a minimum basis" and seek a more definite legal opinion on the city's obligation.

Mayor David Price Jones, who wanted a more detailed legal opinion, cast the lone dissenting vote.

"I don't like to start policing a huge area," Jones said.

Police protection at the base has been the task of the Air Police. But since Hamilton moved from active to reserve status, the security force has been reduced, according to Navy Capt. J. C. Biederman, executive officer of Naval Facilities Engineer Command in San Bruno.

Because of the reduction in personnel and lack of available Navy funds, security services won't be available to the housing area after July 1, so the city must do the policing at no expense to the federal government, Biederman said in a letter to the council.

The Novato City Council also:

SMOKING BAN — Unanimously banned smoking in council chambers during council meetings, a modification of an earlier proposal by councilman Gail M. Wilhelm to ban smoking entirely in the Novato Community House.

BUSINESS — Unanimously reaffirmed a 1972 resolution that the council should encourage business and that any conflicts between potential business and the downtown plan or Novato General Plan shall be directed to the council for decision.

STREET PROJECTS — Awarded Ghilotti Bros. of San Rafael, low bidder, a $153,110 contract to resurface streets and Ted R. Jenkins of San Jose, low bidder, a $50,299 contract for street sealing.

BUSINESS LICENSES — Authorized City Mgr. Phillip J. Brown to establish a task force to develop a new business tax ordinance to replace the current business license tax ordinance which was described as out of date.

STOP SIGNS — Approved stop signs at the Seventh Street approaches to Vallejo Avenue, the southbound San Andreas Drive approach to San Miguel Way and the Elena Court approach to San Luis Way.

CABLE TV — Went on record as opposing Senate Bill 1361 which would create a "sports blackout" on cable television and require cable television systems to pay copyright fees to broadcasters. The vote was 3-to-2 with Fred F. Ruegg and Gail M. Wilhelm dissenting.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 9 a.m. Saturday at city hall to interview candidates for city commissions and committees. The council will have a special meeting with the city environmental quality committee at 7:30 p.m. Monday which will be by a public hearing on the proposed $4.2 million 1974-75 budget at 8 p.m.

ACREAGE — Voted 3-to-2 to designate a seven-acre parcel northwest of San Andreas and San Marin drives for future commercial use. Jones and Wilhelm dissented.

RESIDENTIAL — Approved a high density zoning — 12 to 20 units per acre — for the Garl-Bygones property on the west side of Tamalpais Avenue south of Warner Creek, but only if the land is used for housing for the elderly.

Patrolmen Are Being Schooled In Being Polite

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — If Ohio Highway patrolmen in the future are so courteous you would swear they just finished a Dale Carnegie course, you'll be right.

Patrol officials said they are sending 54 officers, mainly supervisors, through the motivational course.

"We know we have to be receptive and patient with people," said Patrol Supt. Robert Chiaramonte, who said he decided not to send the officers through a Carnegie course specifically structured for law enforcement personnel.

"It broadens (patrolmen's) horizons to be in classes with accountants or dentists, for instance, and it shows other students that our men are motivated to improve," he said.

Chiaramonte said officers stop about three million persons each year and almost always in an adversary situation.

Luau Hostesses Trot Out Favorite Island Dishes

The third day of summer is a fine day for a luau, believe members of Vine Village Auxiliary, so they have planned their party for 6 p.m. Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fuss in Tiburon.

Several members of the group to aid the program for handicapped adults located in Sonoma have stepped forward with their best Hawaiian recipes.

HAWAIIAN SWEET AND PUNGENT PORK
(Mrs. Walter B. Hall)

1½ lbs. pork shoulder (cubed)
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup flour
1 Tbsp. peanut oil
3 green peppers cut in strips
2 cups drained canned pineapple chunks
¾ cup brown sugar
1 cup vinegar
3 Tbsps. molasses
3 tomatoes, peeled, diced
2 Tbsps. cornstarch
1 tsp. salt
½ freshly ground black pepper

Combine eggs, flour, salt and ¼ cup water. Add pork cubes and stir until coated. Fry pork in 2 inches of hot oil (375 degrees) for 3 minutes or until golden brown. Drain pork — keep it hot. Combine green pepper and 1½ cups of water. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add tomatoes and simmer for five minutes, stirring occasionally. Combine cornstarch with ¼ cup cold water, and stir into green pepper mixture. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add pork. Simmer 15 minutes.

Serves six.

SAUTEED BANANAS
(Mrs. Gerald Good)

6 bananas
2 Tbsps. of lemon juice
½ cup sugar
¼ cup butter

Select bananas which are all yellow or slightly green tipped. Peel bananas and brush with lemon juice and then roll bananas in sugar. Saute in butter over low heat for five minutes or until golden brown. Serves six.

SWEET POTATO POI
(Mrs. William Fuss)

12 sweet potatoes
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
½ cup coconut milk

Boil sweet potatoes in jackets until tender. Peel and mash, beating pulp until smooth. Season to taste; gradually add coconut milk to desired consistency. Polynesians prefer taro poi, but Americans love this recipe, Marie Fuss explained.

LOMI LOMI
(Mrs. George Kerson)

1 lb. salmon, scaled and cubed and soaked 1 hour in water
1 doz. ripe tomatoes cubed small
1 bunch green onions chopped fine
2 round onions, diced
1 bunch green onions chopped fine

Mix all ingredients and serve in small amount with poi. Serves 25 persons.

PAPAYA SALAD
(Mrs. Dale Woodley)

2 ripe papayas
1 tsp. sugar
Kirsch (optional)
Fresh fruits (strawberries, pears, oranges, bananas, pineapple)

Fill papaya halves with chilled fruit, add sugar and kirsch, and serve with cheeses and crackers. Can be prepared the morning of the luau. Pineapple halves may be used instead of papayas.

PINEAPPLE HAUPIA DESSERT
(Mrs. Aaron Jacob)

3 tsp. cornstarch
3 tsp. sugar
2 cups coconut milk
1 can crushed pineapple

Combine first three ingredients and blend in ½ cup coconut milk to form a smooth paste. Heat remaining coconut milk over low heat and stir in cornstarch, continuing to stir until thickened. Stir in pineapple and pour into 8-inch square pan. Cool until firm. To serve, spoon into dessert dishes and sprinkle with coconut. Serves six.

COCONUT SHRIMP DIP
(Mrs. Robert Gillis)

1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tsp. curry powder
2 green onions, chopped fine
½ cup shredded coconut chopped fine
¼ lb. cooked shrimp chopped small
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper

Mix all ingredients. Chill for several hours. Serve with crackers or dipping chips.

Take Care To Keep Beef Cool In Summer

Proper care of beef in warmer months makes good sense. After purchasing beef get it refrigerated as soon as possible or, if there must be a delay, carry a cooler in the car for interim storage.

When carrying beef to campsite or picnic spot, be sure it's carefully wrapped in plastic wrap or foil, and again, kept chilled in cooler or ice chest. Leftover cooked meats should be wrapped promptly and refrigerated as soon as the meal is finished.

Marinade Solves Potluck Problem In Summertime

The season of outdoor, group-participation parties is upon us, as sunny days happen more often. If you're sometimes in a dilemma over what your contribution to the communal dinner table should be, clip this recipe and give it a try.

Fresh Vegetable Marinade aux Herbes is as easy as a three-bean salad, but a welcome and delicious cahnge. Layers of fresh vegetables in a zesty oil and vinegar marinade look picture-pretty in a tall glass container.

Don't overdo the preparation when it comes to fresh vegetables. They're at their best as nature intends them, virtually unadulterated. Leave the cauliflower raw, the tomato skins on and the mushrooms intact. Simply wash thoroughly.

FRESH VEGETABLES MARINADE AUX HERBES

2 cups mushrooms
1 small red onion, thinly sliced
½ head caulifower, separated into bite-size pieces
1 green bell pepper, sliced
1 large tomato, cut in wedges
1 cup salad oil
1 cup white wine vinegar
1 cup water
1½ tsps dried marjoram, crumbled
1½ tsps. garlic salt
1½ tsps. dried sweet basil, crumbled
¼ tsps. pepper
1 cup fresh parsley sprigs
Crisp salad greens

Gently brush mushrooms clean with a soft brush; slice in half. In a tall glass container, or a narrow glass serving bowl, layer all the onion slices, cauliflowerets, green pepper slices, tomato wedges and mushrooms. Blend together salad oil, vinegar, water and seasonings; pour over vegetables.

Top with fresh parsley sprigs; cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. When ready to serve, drain off marinade and reserve for future use as salad dressing. Serve marinated vegetables in glass container, letting each person spoon vegetables onto salad greens.

Makes six to eight servings.

Cookies To Star For Open House

Coffee and cookies will be among the attractions Friday when the Thrift Shop sponsored by the Marin General Hospital Volunteers celebrates its third anniversary with a half-price sale.

Planned from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Whistlestop, the anniversary event attracts a crowd.

That's why the cookies this year will be the kind that everyone enjoys — Sugar Cookies.

Made from a recipe which has been in the family of Mrs. John Ball of San Rafael for almost 100 years, the Sugar Cookies will be offered to all visitors on anniversary sale day.

Mrs. Ball shares the old fashioned recipe with readers here:

19TH CENTURY SUGAR COOKIES
(Courtesy of Mrs. John Ball)

¾ cup butter
1¼ cups sugar
1 egg
¾ cup sour cream
2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. baking soda

Cream sugar and butter, add egg (slightly beaten). Dissolve soda in sour cream and mix alternately with flour. Refrigerate for at least 30 minutes. This is a very soft dough. Flour bread board and rolling pin well. Also use flour on hands to flatten the ball of dough.

Roll to ⅛-inch thickness. Use 2½-inch cookie cutter. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and sprinkle cookies with sugar.

Bake at 400 degrees about 10 minutes (until cookies are golden brown on bottom; they will be cream colored on top).

Makes six dozen cookies.

Plan Outings

Outdoor dining with barbecued beef is easy on the summer cook. When planning a menu around grilled beef steaks, beef burgers, kabobs or a spit roast, choose make-ahead accompaniments to serve cold — chilled marinated vegetables and fruit salads. Breads or potatoes can be heated on the grill along with the beef. The idea is to spend as little time as possible in the kitchen.

Pastas Can Take Shrimp A Long Way For Families

A pound of shrimp goes a long way when served in a shrimp noodle bake. All pastas are great extenders and in this recipe it is noodles that are combined with the shrimp and other goodies such as sour cream, mushroom soup, green onion, ripe olives, dill weed, seasoned salt, and Cheddar cheese.

Half of the cheese is reserved to sprinkle over the top of the baked casserole just long enough to melt before serving. A clever way of making large shrimp seem like more is to cut in half lengthwise. Canned shrimp may be substituted for either cooked or raw shrimp.

SHRIMP NOODLE BAKE

1 pound frozen, peeled, deveined shrimp
1 package (8 ounce) medium noodles, cooked and drained
½ pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream
1 can (10¾ ounce) condensed cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup sliced green onion (with 2-inch of green tops)
¼ cup sliced, pitted ripe olives
1 tsp. dill weed
½ tsp. seasoned salt
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Thaw frozen shrimp. Cut shrimp in half lengthwise, if desired. Combine noodles, sour cream, soup, onion, olives, dill weed, seasoned salt, and one-half of the cheese; mix well. Fold in shrimp. Spoon into shallow two-quart baking dish. Cover with aluminum foil, crimping it securely to edges of dish. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. Uncover; sprinkle with remaining cheese. Return to oven about 15 minutes or until cheese melts. Makes six servings.

If desired, two pounds of frozen raw shrimp (shells on) cooked, shelled, and deveined, or three cans (4½ ounce each) may be substituted.

Nostalgia, Sherry For A Dessert

Nostalgia for the good things of the past has brought renewed interest in such old-fashioned desserts as Floating Island. For its revival, this gentle sweet is flavored with sherry.

Sherry Floating Island is dramatic for serving at the table — a few spoonfuls of custard and a puff of poached meringue to float on top of each serving. It looks particularly attractive in a footed glass dish with extra-large islands, sized to fit the dish. Or, prepare it in individual portions.

SHERRY FLOATING ISLAND

2 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar
3¼ cups milk
1 (3¾ oz.) package French vanilla pudding mix
⅛ tsp. salt
¼ cup cream Sherry
Sherry Caramel Sauce

Beat egg whites until stiff. Gradually beat in sugar, continuing to beat to a stiff meringue. Turn two cups milk into a 9 or 10-inch skillet. Heat milk to simmering. Drop rounded tablespoonfuls of the meringue onto hot milk, making six mounds.

Poach about one minute. Turn carefully, using a slotted spoon and rubber spatula, and poach second side. Lift meringues with slotted spoon onto a large plate, and set aside. Reserve any poaching milk.

Turn pudding mix into a saucepan, and gradually stir in remaining 1¼ cups milk, mixing until smooth. Add lightly beaten egg yolks, salt and the hot milk from skillet. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until pudding comes to a full boil.

Remove from heat, and stir in sherry. Cool, covered.

Meanwhile, prepare Sherry Caramel Sauce. Shortly before serving, turn all but two tablespoons of the sauce into shallow serving bowl. Carefully pour cooled custard on top and arrange meringues on custard. Just before serving, drizzle the remaining caramel over meringues. Makes six servings.

Sherry Caramel Sauce: Turn ¾ cup sugar into a 9 or 10-inch skillet, and cook over very low heat, stirring occasionally, until sugar melts completely and turns a light golden brown. Remove from heat and slowly stir in ¼ cup boiling water. Gradually stir in ¾ cup sherry. Return to low heat, and cook, stirring frequently, until syrup is thick and all the crystals have dissolved. Continue cooking until syrup measures ⅔ cup. Cool.

Whiteners Only Act Like Cream

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fluid and dry coffee whiteners generally are made from nondairy ingredients, says Cornell University Cooperative Extension Service.

The main ingredients of fluid whiteners include a vegetable fat which usually is coconut oil. The dry, instant-dissolving whiteners are made up of ingredients similar to the fluid products. The whiteners contain about the same number of calories as light cream.

Good Substitutes

Teacups, custard cups and muffin tins make good substitutes for individual salad molds.

HELPING TEEN-AGERS

Charm Training Isn't Any Cinch

By PAT BALMES

"High school years are kind of traumatic for girls. You have to understand their problems to help them," said former model and fashion show director Shirley Latta, a newcomer to Mill Valley.

Teaching children's classes was her special interest at Plaza 3, the Phoenix, Ariz., modeling and talent agency where she was fashion director for the past five years.

"Teaching high school girls — that is a challenge. You would have to get so psyched up. Twenty of them would be waiting for you to tell them to get their hair out of their faces.

"The first orientation class was the most important. We used very strong instructors. You have to criticize; they usually like you for it. Not 'you look cute but just try this,' but 'I see six of you in thongs. They flop; the whole body droops. You cannot walk right' " the former modeling instructor said.

She would assign her students, all wearing blue jeans, to come the next day in dresses "so I can see your legs and how you walk." At the next class she would observe the duck walk, the football player amble, stiff strides and the ballet third position.

"Bend your knees when you walk. Your steps will be softer, quieter," she advises, adding that models are taught to brush one knee with the other when they walk.

GIRLS SHOULD get their hair away from their faces. Some have no idea what shape their faces are, she said.

"Look at those awful bridal pictures with the hair and the veil around the face," she commented.

If the face is long, hair should be short. If the forehead is short, no bangs should be worn. If the face is full, hair should not be pulled straight back; the face will only look rounder. Sometimes a side bang is good for a round face, she said.

Hair length, like make-up, is a very individual thing. Hair should be trained so it has a look, she continued. Generally, shorter hair is in style. You have to have a very attractive face to wear it short; hair helps the face. Short is severe, she said.

Hair should not be cut by mother, friend or self, she tells her students, but by a professional. The same is true of plucking eyebrows which never should be plucked above the brow.

Another teen-age problem is how to put together a look:

Even jeans can be fashionable if they are the right length and fit properly, topped with a nice sweater and a cute babuska, she advised.

A teen-ager must know her correct size or her purchases will be too big or too tight.

Shop for variety instead of buying the style and color of garment which already hangs in the closet.

"GET A SMOCK. Try a different color. Think of a different silhouette. Sometimes it's fun to be a leader. If two cute, popular girls wear something new at school, everybody will want to try it," she said.

She suggested that mothers keep trying to get their daughter's skirts down, even if they have to drop the hems gradually, an inch at a time.

"That's the way I cut my hair short. My husband loved it long, so I only had it cut an inch shorter each time I went to the beauty shop," she said.

COMPLEXION PROBLEMS can be helped by keeping the hair clean. Another aid is snacking on fruit instead of cookies, she said, commenting that mothers are to blame because they are always baking cookies.

She points out to youngsters that an excess of white foods is usually fattening, naming flour, mayonnaise, sugar, potatoes, sauces, potato chips and bread.

"Cut out artificial additive foods. Fresh foods are so easy to get," she tells the girls.

Another teen-age problem is attitude and personality. She encourages girls to talk —

YWCA Classes Are Announced For Next Month

The Marin Young Women's Christian Association will sponsor three one-time workshops during the July summer session.

July 11 at 10 a.m. Kathleen Rake will lead a class in bargello, a form of needlepoint, at the YWCA, 1618 Mission Avenue in San Rafael. Miss Rake will lead another workshop, using needlepoint to make Christmas decorations and ornaments, July 24 at 10 a.m., also at the YWCA.

Ginny Schweiger will teach the basics of framing July 17 at 9:30 a.m. at the Fairfax Lumber Co., 109 Broadway in Fairfax.

Advance registration is required and can be made through the YWCA.

MARGARET HENDERSON
Alumnae president

Chi Omega Alumnae Pick Slate

Margaret Henderson of Kentfield has been elected president of Chi Omega Alumnae of Marin.

Chi Omega alumnae, said the 14-year member of the organization, support Panhellenic organizations and Chi Omega chapters at the University of California at Berkeley, California State University, San Jose, and the University of California at Davis.

Activities for the coming year will include a fund-raising fashion show to support a scholarship for a Chi Omega graduate.

Mrs. Henderson was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley where she received her teaching credential. She is a native of Sacramento and has lived in Marin for 16 years.

Mrs. Henderson is also a member of the Kent Woodlands Guild of Sunny Hills. She is the wife of Horace W. Henderson and the mother of Mrs. Larry Sweet of Princeton, N.J.

Officers to serve with Mrs. Henderson are Mmes. James Egger of Greenbrae, vice president; Ernest Muzatko of San Rafael, treasurer; Jorgen Pedersen of Fairfax, recording secretary; Charles Loeffler of San Anselmo, corresponding secretary, and A.P. Celia of San Rafael, Panhellenic representative.

Nuptials Repeated In San Francisco Church

St. John of God Catholic Church in San Francisco was the setting for the nuptials of Francine Moore Long to Jeffrey Bryan Moore of San Rafael.

Ruth Smith of San Francisco was maid of honor for the June 8 rite, and the bridesmaids were Laura Ellis of San Francisco, Carol Colclough of Lafayette and Claudia Calhoon of Fort Richardson, Alaska.

Richard Gobey of San Rafael was the best man for Jeffrey. Guests were seated by Bryan Massey of San Rafael, Alan Mildwurm of San Francisco and the bridegroom's brothers, Tim Calhoon of San Rafael and Capt. Christopher Calhoon of Fort Richardson, Alaska.

The reception was given at the church parish hall, and the couple left on a trip to Carmel and Santa Barbara. They will make their home in San Francisco.

Francine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long of San Francisco. She was graduated from Mercy High School and received a degree this year from the University of San Francisco.

Jeffrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoon of San Rafael and the grandson of Mrs. Hope Calhoon of Novato.

A graduate of Terra Linda High School and USF, he is a second lieutenant in the Army.

Golden Gate Chapter Picks New Officers

Sandy Natt of San Rafael has been elected president of Golden Gate Chapter Women's American Organization for Rehabilitation through Training (ORT), a vocational training program of the Jewish people.

Mrs. Natt has been a member of ORT since 1966 and during her three year affiliation with the Golden Gate Chapter she has served as president, education vice president and bulletin editor.

ORT, said Mrs. Natt, is "based on the belief that to have a meaningful life, a man must maintain his individuality and dignity. Our aim is to free men and women from charity by equipping them with the know-how for useful and dignified employment. . . "

Activities for the coming year include a "Hoedown" in October, a theater party in February and a casino party in April. Women interested in the future of youth and education, regardless of religious beliefs, may join, said Mrs. Natt.

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. Natt has lived in Marin for three years where she is active in Congregation Rodef Sholom Sisterhood, and Council of Marin Jewish Organizations. She was graduated from Brooklyn College with a degree in chemistry.

SANDY NATT
ORT president

Mrs. Natt is the wife of Jerry Natt, regional vice president of Menswear Manufacturing, and the mother of Steve, 16, Melissa, 14, and Susan Natt, 10. Her interests include needlework, reading, tennis and Oriental cooking.

Officers to serve with Mrs. Natt are Sara Chaffin of San Rafael, scholarship vice president; Betty Harris of San Rafael, program vice president; Annette Heller of San Rafael, honor roll vice president; Ann Schalit of San Rafael, EPIC vice president; Sherrye Schwarz, of Tiburon, membership vice president; Ruth Tanner of San Rafael, treasurer; Edith Lefort of Kentfield, financial secretary, and Roz Bloom of San Rafael, recording secretary.

Delegates' Photos Were Transposed

Letters Are Running Against Opening Up Of Adoption Records

DEAR READERS:

Not in recent years has a letter to HHU stirred up so much controversy. "Wants to Know," who asked the right of adoptive children to examine their birth records and seek out their heritage, has inspired hundreds of answers.

To date, the vote against open records is ahead, by a margin of more than 2-to-1, but this could change with the next flood of mail. The following letters are a sampling of opinions on this highly charged subject. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

For many years I worked in a social welfare agency, thus came in contact with many adopting cases. I've come to believe that in most cases, natural parent and child are better off "separated" by closed records.

Very few natural parents try to trace their adopted-out children. Often the birth was kept secret and a child out of the past would be a great embarrassment. Those who do seek to open closed doors may have ulterior motives, such as a "crying" need for money. Often they are neurotic.

I don't want to seem dogmatic, just honest, when I say that adopted children who make the effort to locate their roots are taking awful chances. I've known women who slammed the door in the face of such a child, other women who live in fear that they will be "found." And I've known children who, having discovered their natural parents, desperately wish they had left the past alone — for now they worry, "Will I turn out like these awful people?"

I believe the majority of adopted children and natural parents — not to speak of the adoptive parents — don't want ghosts arising from the past. Laws are made for the majority, thus I am definitely opposed to a law which would permit breaking through the "confidence" barrier. — L.G.

DEAR HELEN:

The whole picture of an unwed mother's situation can be seen only if all concerned are allowed to speak. The main person in this dilemma is the unborn child. Since he can't speak, please allow adults who were adopted at birth to take his part.

We are forced into a society where all members know their roots and ancestors. Yet our desire to know about our beginnings is taken as an insult to our adoptive parents. Until sealed record statutes of adoption are changed, adult adoptees are irrevocably condemned to assume ancestry and familial relationships decreed by law.

Adoption is necessary, and parents and adoptive children often grow to have typical parent-child rapport, but still the knowledge of his natural heritage would create a whole person of the adoptee and offer him freedom to love his nurturing parents more deeply. Reunions of natural parents and adoptees return to the adult adoptee the identity which was set aside at his adoption. — CAROLYN HULL, Corresponding Secretary, ALMA (Adoptees' Liberty Movement Association).

DEAR HELEN:

I am adopted and don't want to know who my natural parents are. I might find out I don't like them and they don't like me, so I'm better off as is.

But I think those who want to know should be allowed to find their first parents. I consider my real parents the ones who have raised and loved me. I was "reborn" when they took me in. — TEEN-AGER

DEAR HELEN:

I think adopted children should be allowed to learn health and heredity factors about their biological parents, but other than that: closed records will cause much less trouble for all concerned. Or how about an "adoptions board" that would contact those involved, ask if they want to be "discovered," and act as go-betweens? — THE "REAL" PARENT of an ADOPTED

(More on adoption records tomorrow) — H.

PARENT AND CHILD

Repeating A Grade Holds Few Answers To Troubles

By CYNTHIA PARSONS
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

Keeping selected children from moving on to the next grade — a decade ago — was fairly standard operating procedure in most public primary schools.

Repeating first grade was the most frequent occurrence. Next came repeats for third grade students. A few children were forced to repeat second grade.

BUT IN THE past 10 years, repetition has declined. Now, once again, school systems are selecting children, generally by December or January, as potential repeaters. Once a teacher has identified a child as a "repreater," the practice is to give that child "special" work so that when he or she repeats the grade he or she won't be repeating the graded material.

There is very little hard evidence that having a child repeat one of the primary grades brings school success in later years. In fact, many school systems which have regularly kept 10-20 per cent of their students back a grade have never followed through on these students to know how this decision actually affected their school careers. But if they did, they wouldn't keep children back.

Is your school asking to have your child repeat a grade? If so, then here are some questions to ask the school system about its repeaters over the past 30 years:

What per cent of the first graders have repeated since 1944?

What per cent of those who repeated grade one graduated from high school?

What are the comparable statistics for grades two and three?

Of the children who did not repeat a grade, what per cent graduated from high school?

Which shows the more success — the statistics for those children who did not repeat one of the first three grades or the statistics for those who were held back for a year?

WHY DO TEACHERS decide in midyear that certain pupils will "benefit" from repeating the grade they're in?

One reason, incredibly enough, is the fact that the primary teacher who makes this decision is never told the end results. That is, the teacher is never privy to any data from studies that show whether or not repeating a grade has helped pupils over the full K-12 school program.

Another reason is the desire to avoid the pressure from the teacher of the next grade when it is discovered that all the children from the next lower grade are not prepared. If the fourth-grade teacher expects all entering pupils to read at a certain level, possess certain arithmetic skills, and be able to write with pre-determined ability, and some pupils cannot measure up, then pressure is brought to bear on the teachers in third grade to hold the weaker pupils back.

GENERALLY what this does is reinforce a feeling of failure in the pupil. Yes, it takes a tremendously supportive family and school community to make this step — for the child — a positive instead of a negative one. And generally the children who are held back do not have supportive families or affirmative and positive relations with school authorities and peers.

What can parents do when they are told their child must stay back a year?

And parents can insist that teachers who regularly have several "backward" pupils get special training themselves in different ways to teach. The teacher, for example, who does not know how to teach reading through phonics and who regularly fails to teach children who learn best through listening, should not be allowed to keep the pupils back. Instead, these teachers should have to learn to teach phonics or be dismissed as incompetent.

Mail Order Divorces Available In England

Mail order divorces are available in England. If a couple has lived apart for at least two years and have no children under 16 they are eligible for a divorce without going to court.

One spouse fills out a form and get the agreement of the other. The form is then mailed to a judge. If it meets with his approval, a divorce decree is mailed back, and the marriage is dissolved.

Fall's Bulky Fashions Denounced

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vincent Monte-Sano, a fashion leader since the 1930s, says the woman customer buying fall '74 clothes will pay more than last year because fabric and labor costs are up.

The ready-to-wear industry itself is in a state of the doldrums, he said, but from this the customer most of all stands to benefit, even as she sees price increases as much as 25 per cent.

"Fashion-wise and price-wise the picture is dark for the industry," said Monte-Sano. "But the customer will benefit because the retailer, the manufacturer and the designer all will be trying to please her."

His advice: "Shop carefully, look for fit and quality, and don't be badgered into buying what you don't like. Clothes should flatter.

"A girl fights to keep her figure. Why then should she wear something that doesn't look good on her?"

WITH THAT, Monte-Sano, who's been in the garment business since 1939, launched into a denunciation of one fall trend dominating the New York women's wear market.

"I don't like the big, drooped look," said Monte-Sano. He referred to what one fall fashion roundup from New York designers called "the giant overcoat over the bulky sweater...over your big full skirt... volume is what's important...yards of swirling fabrics in capes and flyaway backs..."

Plus the longer skirts, some drooping to mid-calf.

"It's a case of the emperor's new clothes," said Monte-Sano. "People say, 'Oh, isn't it beautiful!' It's not. The average woman doesn't want to look that way. The kids in their make-believe way may find the clothes attractive. But as lengths get longer the tops get heavier and prices go up because there is more yardage."

Monte-Sano sounded off on what's wrong with the fall scene in an interview as he prepared to open the week-long series of ready-to-wear shows for visiting reporters from newspapers, television and radio.

The week is the 63rd semiannual event sponsored by the New York Couture Business Council, of which he is president.

THE COUNCIL consists of manufacturers in various facets of the clothing industry including his own firm, Main Street, which makes rain and storm coats.

When the couture group completes its daily series this week, another called the American Designers Group takes over for another five days. By June 28, the visiting editors will have seen all facets of fall styles.

Use of more fabric is just one reason for price increases. Monte-Sano said the major reasons lie in union contract increases and scarcity of both synthetics and natural fabrics.

Under terms of the industry's three year contract with the International Ladies Garment Workers Union (ILGWU) this year there's a 6-½ per cent wage increase, plus a 5-½ per cent cost of living increase. That's at the manufacturer level. By the time the increase gets to the consumer, it means about double, he said.

Synthetics, which are in most instances petrochemical-based, were caught in the energy crisis so prices went up although Monte-Sano thought "this is levelling out."

AS FOR SILKS and wools "if you can get them," they're expensive with the added cost of import tariffs.

He walked across his office and lifted a bolt of fabric to show what's happening with the naturals—they're being blended with polyesters. This one read, "85 per cent polyester, 15 per cent wool."

On one wall of Monte-Sano's office there's a framed quote from John Ruskin. It goes, "There is hardly anything in the world that someone cannot make a little worse and also a little cheaper. And the people who consider price alone are this man's lawful prey."

"I could make a speech from that alone," said Monte-Sano.

Runaway Wives

In the early 1960s approximately 300 husbands ran away from every wife who deserted her spouse, according to Tracers Co. of America, a firm that specializes in tracking down missing persons. In 1973 men and women were running away at the same rate.

about their interests or what they would like to be doing this summer. She works to get them to express themselves with personality in facial expression and voice and to look directly at the person they are talking to.

In Phoenix she used teen-age students to commentate fashion shows, introducing models with music in their voices to hold people's attention.

"I try to bring out a girl's best features. I don't care if she learns to do a salon pivot or not. I want to make her a lovely companion who has a lot of friends. That is what I hope for most girls," she said.

IT WOULD be very difficult to become a model in San Francisco, she believes. It was easier in Phoenix where there were many more shopping centers, boutiques and resort hotels. A corps of models has been working for years in the San Francisco stores, she said.

Figure requirements for a model are very exacting. She must not be too hippy or busty. Long legs are an asset. A model cannot wear one skirt size and another top size. If short hair comes in, she must be willing to cut the hair her husband adores, said the former model.

A newcomer to Mill Valley, Mrs. Latta is the wife of an attorney and the mother of 4-year-old daughter, Shannon.

She was graduated from the University of Utah, where she was designated the outstanding woman graduate in theater in 1964. The same year she was the first runner up in the Miss Utah contest.

She toured the Orient with a USO troop, playing Lola in "Damn Yankees," and appeared in a dozen other musical comedies in Salt Lake City.

Associated with Phoenix Plaza 3 Modeling and Talent Agency for five years, Mrs. Latta was first a modeling instructor.

She later became the agency's fashion director, producing shows. She was choreographer, coordinator and commentator of regular fashion shows and also produced several elaborate fashion productions each season involving 75 models and presented to thousands of viewers at major shopping centers.

In 1971 she directed the agency's winning presentation by 45 teen and child models at the convention of the Modeling Association of America in New York.

After traveling extensively in Europe with her family, she and her husband returned to Phoenix and moved to Mill Valley, "the place we knew we wanted to live."

She plans to give beauty and modeling courses to girls and women at various locations in Marin, opening with a little girls' course at Tiburon Peninsula Club on July 16.

CERAMIC SCULPTURE — Cynthia Hipkiss' fat ladies were inspired by ads for diet products. Of hand-built, low-fired clay, they are part of Dominican College's Master Potters' Exhibit in Alemany Library. Ceramics by Richard Hieb, David Kuraoka, Dale Roush and Richard Shaw also are featured.

ART REVIEW

Ceramics Show At Dominican Brings Differing Potter Work

By ADA GARFINKEL

Art critic Lawrence Alloway defines pop-art as "an art of imitations and double-takes."

In this sense, the garish and amusing — yet pitifull — fat ladies that people the world of ceramic-sculptor Cynthia Hipkiss, may qualify as "pop-art."

Miss Hipkiss is one of five participants in the Master Potters' Workshop at Dominican College. Her works and those of Richard Hieb, David Kuraoka, Dale Roush, and Richard Shaw are on exhibit in Dominican's Alemany Library through July 16.

The Hipkiss sculptures, hand-built and low-fired, were inspired by dieting advertisements and by "True Confessions." Their bubbly textures and crude colors are derived from overlays of commercial glazes. Decals and luster-glazes are added embellishments.

There is a pathetic dichotomy inherent in these grotesque figures in their gaudy finery — with their rolls of flesh squeezed into floral patterned dresses, tiny hats, feathered boas, and open-toed pumps. Their faces are wreathed in smiles, their eyes are complacent and self-accepting.

But "Pink Girdle Lady," oozing prodigously, and the others, arms-akimbo stance measuring their bulging bulk seem to also betray their deeper more svelte longings.

Richard Hieb's three years in Japan were spent working at a number of village kilns and he particularly was influenced by Tamba ware, a utilitarian, traditional folk pottery. In 1971, he built a 240-cubic-foot climbing kiln on his property in Jenner, it is modeled on those of the Orient. His jars and bottles of high-fired stoneware are in the simple lines and classical mode of Tamba.

Traditional Tamba pottery often carried poems inscribed in white or black slip. Hieb's crisply rhythmic line-drawings on his recent works convey an expressionistic exuberance and buoyancy. Their combined geometric and spontaneous linear jottings are images from his sub-conscious, according to Hieb, used to create "contemporary pictographs."

Raku-ware, so-named to honor the memory of the potter Chojiro Raku, signifies "the enjoyment of leisure." It also implies a very complex process of firing of a clay body that must be able to withstand sudden changes of heat and cold to which it is subjected.

David Kuraoka, a native of Hawaii, is an instructor at San Francisco State University. His Raku jars are wheel-thrown and completed with coil-building by hand. Their embossed linear brushwork, crackled finish, and intricately webbed network of overlays and markings, have the effect of grand ceremonial objects.

The works of Stinson Beach potter Dale Roush include functional and decorative stoneware jars, bottles, and planters. They range from massively sturdy to delicate, poetical expressions. Delicately ridged surfaces, embossed floral designs, linear caligraphy, ringed handles, and distinctly personal glazes are the hallmarks of Roush's ceramic-ware.

Richard Shaw's pseudo-functional porcelain sculptures span a wide-ranging scope of time and tradition.

Shaw, who received a grant from the National Endowment for Visual Arts in 1970, and who exhibited in "International Ceramics 1972" in London, harkens back to Meissen-ware folk art in his mold-cast forms "Cow Cup" and "Carved Log Vase."

In "Fish Cup," however, and in "Platter with Newspaper" and "Platter with Beans" he introduces bits of "torn newsprint" — silk-screened decals — which deal with current inflationary problems and suggestions for "stretching-the-budget-substitute."

It is a sly and clever bit of kitsch.

Viewing hours are weekdays from 9 a.m. to noon, and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Speed Limit Being Ignored

HOUSTON (UPI) — The American Automobile Association set up a highway radar trap yesterday and found that trap Monday and found that 62 per cent of the vehicles that zoomed past were traveling in excess of the 55 miles per hour speed limit.

The AAA said 76 per cent of the 295 female drivers clocked and 58 per cent of 1,171 male drivers checked were speeding.

The average speed for all motorists checked in the seven-hour period was 57 MPH.

The test was conducted on a four-lane stretch of U.S. 59 one mile north of the San Jacinto River.

ALBERT SOLNIT
Critical of council

Resignation Over Policy On Planning

Albert Solnit has resigned from the Novato Planning Commission, charging that the city council is "moving away from the principles of good planning and public interest established by previous councils."

Solnit, former chief of advance planning for Marin County, said "the direction of the council has shifted 180 degrees" since he was appointed in January.

Since then the council has gained two new members, Gail Wilhelm, a former planning commissioner, and David E. Milano, a businessman, both elected in March. They replaced George C. Quesada who did not seek reelection and F. Wayne Sartain who was defeated in his bid for another term.

Solnit, named in January to fill an unexpired term, was up for reappointment June 30, but resigned after Monday night's commission session. He said he couldn't in good conscience offer to donate anymore of his time and professional knowledge. The 45-year-old Solnit is a planning consultant and also teaches at the University of California at Berkeley.

At his final commission meeting, Solnit attacked the master plan for 52 acres of the Hanna Ranch.

The proposed 35-acre commercial development would adversely affect downtown business and would repeat the earlier county error of permitting shopping centers at random, Solnit said.

"We're throwing away a great deal of the sweat and blood we spent on the downtown plan," he said.

Solnit said the shopping center master plan by Novato Center Inc. "bristles" with adverse environmental impacts and the proposed commercial site is the "worse spot" in the city as far as earthquake hazards are concerned.

"We've been railroaded because everyone's shy of getting into the way of a big money deal," he said.

Chairman Robert Glascock declined to comment on Solnit's remarks saying to reply would only "lend credibility" to the statements.

The commission approved the master plan by a 3-to-2 vote with Solnit and Daniel P. Donovan dissenting. Commissioners Richard L. O'Connell and John C. Schoonover were absent.

The plan covers 52 acres east of Highway 101, north of Lynwood Slough.

The commission also reviewed proposed revisions to the Novato General Plan recommended by the city council.

Commissioners recommended that housing for the elderly be included in residential developments where feasible and, endorsed the Rowland Boulevard extension, a proposed entrance to Indian Valley Colleges, as a "needed new street."

They also agreed that convenience shopping should be located in neighborhoods while other stores and services should be encouraged to locate downtown.

Miss Marin Pageant On Once Again

The Miss Marin Beauty Pageant, which has not been held for several years, will be staged July 6 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The contest, formerly sponsored by radio station KTIM, has been taken over by Arthur C. Madsen owner of Art's photo of Marin, San Anselmo.

The winner will compete in the Miss California contest in Los Angeles in September. Miss California will go on to the Miss USA contest and that winner will particiapte in the Miss Universe contest.

To be eligible a girl must have been born between Dec. 1, 1950, and May 1, 1957, never married or a mother. Deadline for applications is June 28.

The local winner will receive gifts of jewelry, clothing, a gift certificate and a trip to the Miss California contest.

Extension Sought On Annexing Area

San Rafael city officials will ask the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission to extend for another year agency approval of annexation of the Country Club area when the commission meets at 7:30 p.m. today at the Civic Center.

The commission approved annexation last August, but such approvals expire after one year, according to the city administration.

The city dropped annexation of the area after owners of 57 per cent of the land involved opposed merger and so killed consolidation under state law. But local residents have filed suit, saying the law linking merger with property values is unconstitutional.

City Atty. Fred Robbins said today the city is seeking extension of the commission's merger approval, in case the court declares the law unconstitutional and the city is ordered to proceed with annexation.

Optimists Elect

ATLANTA (UPI) — Ralph Glasscock, a Clinton, Mo., businessman, was elected yesterday to be the new president of Optimist International.

French Cabinet Eyes Inflation

PARIS (UPI) — President Valery Giscard d'Estaing and his cabinet met today to give final approval to increases of social benefits for low-income families worst hit by France's galloping inflation.

Officials said the Elysee Presidential Palace meeting also studied more profound changes of the French industrial society such as more solid guarantees against unemployment, better labor-management relations and a larger say for workers in the management of their business companies. Most of these latter measures will require legislative approval.

Today's session was called to approve an increase of basic minimum wages, family and old age allowances whose purchasing power has sharply declined because of inflation now running at 18 per cent a year.

Kentfield School Budget To Mean Tax Rate Boost

Kentfield School District trustees last night approved a $2,182,557 preliminary budget for 1974-75, up $246,479 over this year's spending plan.

Supt. Eugene C. Peters said the new budget will require a tax rate of $3.25 per $100 assessed valuation, a 28-cent increase over this year's rate.

State law limits school districts to spending no more per pupil than was spent last year, plus a percentage for inflation, and allows a property tax rate no higher than necessary to produce that amount of revenue. Peters said the district did not levy the maximum tax rate allowable last year and thus can raise its rate for 1974-75.

He said the larger budget is due to inflation in all budget categories and expansion of some programs, including counseling and guidance.

At the same time, trustees approved an 8.2 per cent salary increase for district teachers and classified employees as a result of recent salary negotiations. The raise does not cover administrators whose salaries will be set during final budget hearings, Peters said.

Should administrators also receive 8.2 per cent raises, the salary hikes for all employees will cost the district $125,000 next year, Peters said. He said the increase was not included in the preliminary budget but will not increase the budget total since raises will come from the district's $278,908 reserves.

Peters said trustees and teacher negotiators also agreed that teachers should receive a raise for 1975-76 based on the consumer price index for the Bay Area, provided the increase of the index is between 5 and 10 per cent. If the increase falls outside that range, salary increases would again be negotiated, he said.

Peron Has Flu

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — President Juan D. Peron has the flu and is handling affairs of state from the suburban presidential residence, a government spokesman said yesterday.

The Kentfield School District Board also:

TEACHER — Hired William Kennedy to teach humanities in the district's middle school next year at an annual salary of $9,730.

RATIO — Approved, as previously discussed, teacher-student ratios of 1-24 in elementary schools and 1-18 in the middle school.

MIDDLE — Approved a training program during summer months for all teachers who will teach at the middle school next year. Cost of the program will be $7,500.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to July 11 at 8 p.m. in Bacich School.

Shoreline Trustees To Consider Budget

Shoreline Unified School District trustees will consider adoption of a $1,784,568 tentative budget for 1974-75 at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at West Marin School in Point Reyes Station.

The budget, up $198,568, from this year is based on a tax rate of $4 per $100 assessed valuation, up 42.5 cents from the current rate.

THERE'S A RIGHT AND WRONG WAY FOR EVERYTHING

Three Parks' Auto Fees Doubled

Marin County supervisors, faced with a mushrooming budget for fiscal 1974-75, voted unanimously yesterday to double the parking fees at three county parks to help offset costs of running the parks and recreation department.

The action to increase fees from 50 cents to $1 at Stafford Lake, Paradise Beach and McNear's Beach parks, came as the board approved adding five new positions to the department's 18 member staff. (Another supervisors' story, page 1.)

It rejected, however, a bid by parks director Pierre W. Joske to promote a number of his employees to higher salary ranges.

The net effect of yesterday's action — increasing parking fees to offset salaries — was a $9,600 increase to the $514,291 departmental spending program recommended by county administrator John F. Barrows.

Joske had asked for more than a $100,000 increase over Barrows' recommendation but supervisors turned down his requests for the promotions and several other new positions.

(The budget reflects administration costs and does not include capital improvement programs at a number of parks. Those will be considered tomorrow.)

Discussion of Joske's reorganization plan, which was virtually deflated yesterday, came during the fifth day of hearings on Barrows' proposed $52.2 million county budget.

Supervisors, to date, have pumped into the total budget $650,000 more than Barrows recommended bringing the estimated tax rate to $2.537 per $100 assessed valuation.

The present budget, which runs through June 30, is $50.5 million and was financed with a $2.58 tax rate. The higher budget next year can be financed with a lower tax rate because of increases in property owners' assessed valuation.

The move to increase parking fees at the three parks was initiated by supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere.

He drew support from Leory Gerner, chairman of the county parks and recreation commission, who said he recommended the increase two years ago.

Chairman Michael Wornum said the increase will make possible better maintenance and longer hours of operation at the parks.

The increase is expected to raise an additional $25,000 next year for a revenue total of about $57,000.

The department's $237,332 landscape maintenance program was approved as recommended by Barrows.

It adds another gardener to the 16-member landscape staff. Joske had sought two new gardeners.

A breakdown of other budgets considered yesterday:

CORONER — Approved as submitted. It totals $228,559, up from the current $205,812, and was agreed upon by Barrows and Coroner Donovan O. Cooke. No change in the eight-member staff.

VETERANS SERVICE — Approved as recommended by Barrows. It totals $141,345, up from the current $123,360. County service officer James V. Burdick unsuccessfully sought to add one new position to his eight-member staff.

PLANNING — Approved as submitted, with Roumiguiere dissenting. It totals $551,755, up from the current $539,601, and was agreed upon by Barrows and planning director Werner von Gundell. It adds two positions to his 22-member staff. Last year's budget was inflated by $128,000 worth of consultants' studies.

REDEVELOPMENT — Approved $8,000 for a proposed redevelopment project in the Richardson Bay area. The funds will be used to draft a preliminary plan which supervisors will use to decide whether to proceed with the project.

$186,000 Pay Package Proposed For Officials

Eighty Marin County officials will share in $186,000 of salary increases under a pay hike plan unveiled yesterday by two county supervisors.

The proposed salary hikes range from about 5 per cent to a high of 17 per cent for county administrator John F. Barrows. Most fall in the 10 per cent category.

The package, prepared by supervisors Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Gary T. Giacomini with the aid of Barrows, will be considered tomorrow by the full board.

The document is the result of a series of closed-door meetings attended by Barrows, the two supervisors and individual department heads.

The proposed increases average $2,322 per official. Barrows' salary would jump $4,884 above his present $32,544; his assistant, Thomas F. Campanella, would receive $4,392 more than his current $29,304.

The increases will go into effect July 1 if adopted by supervisors, who are recommending a 10 per cent salary for themselves boost, from $16,800 per year to $18,480, plus fringe benefits.

(The average county employee, meanwhile, will receive a 9 per cent hike in July.)

The proposal also would allow appointed officials to trade one week of vacation each year in return for one week of extra pay. All would receive increased health and life insurance benefits.

A breakdown of monthly salaries for top county officials (with current salaries in parentheses):

Dist. atty. Bruce B. Bales, $3,044 ($2,767); auditor-controller Michael Mitchell, $2,610 ($2,373); assessor Bert W. Broemmel, $2,610 ($2,373); sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, $2,610 ($2,373); county clerk George H. Gnoss $2,466 ($2,242).

Treasurer-tax collector Stanley J. Fontez, $2,466 ($2,242); recorder Noel T. Giacomini, $2,061 ($1,874); coroner Donovan O. Cooke, $1,576 ($1,433); director of health and human services — vacant — $3,080 ($2,800); county counsel Douglas J. Maloney, $3,150 ($3,000).

Public works director Ray W. Foreaker Jr., $2,723 ($2,368); personnel director Maren F. Rinne, $1,987 ($1,758); environmental coordinator Thomas Severns, $1,720 ($1,318); auditorium mgr. Leon G. Kalimos, $2,006 ($1,775); fair mgr. Marcella B. McCoy, $1,271 ($1,155).

Planning director Werner von Gundell, $2,397 ($2,179); parks director Pierre W. Joske, $2,257 ($2,006); chief probation officer John W. Brewer, $2,281 ($2,074); data processing director Joseph B. Leach, $2,576 ($2,342); municipal court clerk Edna L. Slavich, $2,042 ($1,856).

Public defender Harold J. Truett, $2,686 ($2,336); Criminal justice planning director Bella H. Aaron, $1,516 ($1,378); county librarian Bruce D. Bajema, $1,855 ($1,686); fire chief Richard Pedroli, $1,800 ($1,675).

Communications director Thomas Moyer, $1,950 ($1,800); human relations director Douglas H. Bosco, $1,375 ($1,250); county service officer James V. Burdick, $1,704 ($1,549); mental health program chief Robert L. Taylor, $2,756 ($2,625).

Arrigoni and Giacomini said the increases for these officials reflect cost-of-living increases and merit hikes.

County Plans Suit In Larkspur Tax Issue

The Marin County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously yesterday to seek a restraining order aimed at blocking a tax agreement between the City of Larkspur and The Tamalpais retirement center.

The city council, meeting tonight, will consider the agreement which would waive the city's long-standing requirement that the luxury retirement center pay local property taxes.

In return, the center, which has been granted tax exempt status by the county assessor, will continue to pay the city an "in lieu" amount equalling what the city would have received in property taxes.

While the city will get its share (about $40,000 a year), the county, school districts and various special districts will receive nothing and lose a total of about $260,000 annually in revenue.

By waiving the previous requirement that the retirement residence remain on the tax rolls, the city will be abandoning the strongest point from which to fight the center's tax exempt status in the courts, Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere said.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino told supervisors Larkspur is looking out for itself since its city officials view their previous requirement to be questionable legal standing.

Environment Aide Given New Departmental Rank

In a surprise move, Marin County supervisors moved swiftly yesterday to create a new department of environmental services.

The department, to be headed by environmental coordinator Thomas Severns, will consolidate his environmental impact report functions with those of environmental health services.

Severns salary will jump from $15,816 per year to a new $20,640. For the past year, he has been under the administrative umbrella of the county administrator's office. The separate department goes into operation July 1.

The reorganization, introduced by Supervisor Gary T. Giacomini, was approved on a 4-0 vote. Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere was absent.

Marin Moves To Secede From Regional Crime Unit

Marin County supervisors agreed yesterday to proceed with plans to break away from the North Bay Regional Council on Criminal Justice and set up their own agency.

While no final decision was made on the split, Supervisors directed Bella H. Aaron, head of the county criminal-justice planning department, to request support from Marin's 11 cities.

At least six cities and the county — representing at least half Marin's population — must agree to setting up a separate countywide agency, Mrs. Aaron said.

The action also must have state approval which has been promised, she continued.

The move to break away from the regional agency, which was set up several years ago to allocate state and federal law-and-order funds to four counties, was initiated earlier this year after a funding dispute erupted between Marin and the other counties.

Graduation Rites At Guide Dog Campus

Twelve blind men and women from all over the west will be officially presented their new guide dogs in outdoor graduation ceremonies Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., San Rafael.

Members of Marin 4-H clubs who raised the dogs will present them to their new masters, marking the successful completion of the 28-day training course.

John F. McInnis Park Master Plan Approved

A master plan for the 440-acre John F. McInnis Park in Santa Venetia was approved unanimously yesterday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The plan, developed by the county parks and recreation department, envisions swim and tennis facilities, canoe launching area, playgrounds, equestrian facilities and picnic areas, among other things.

Local bicyclists yesterday successfully urged that the plan be amended to provide space for a cycling track.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

ELECTION — Set Nov. 5 for a $350,000 open space bond election in the Loma Verde County Service Area and for a 5 cent tax rate increase for maintenance of open space. The area tax rate is currently 17 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

VETERANS — Referred to the personnel commission a protest by the Status of Women Commission which opposes giving veterans preferential treatment in county hiring. The women's commission said such action would be discriminatory.

APPOINTMENTS — Appointed Lyman Emerson of Mill Valley to the new auditorium, cultural and fair advisory commission and named Kermit V. Speeg, James E. Miller, John Russell, Pat Bezjian, Frances Stone, Denny Lewenthal and Dr. Francis W. Parnell to the Greenbrae County Service Area advisory committee.

FAIR — Agreed to spend $800 to hire the Generation Gap vocal group to perform at the state fair in Sacramento on Sept. 3, Marin County Day.

ROAD CREW — Approved a reclassification plan for the county road crew, promoting 19 men, demoting one and changing the titles of 25. The reclassification will increase salaries a total of $16,000 per year.

ROUMIGUIERE — Changed the minutes of last week's meeting to indicate that supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere's vote in proposing creation of a new agency to oversee water and sanitary districts was not an endorsement of that agency.

Exhibition Ends At Gallery Today

An exhibition of photographs by Alce Ann Cole of Kentfield ends today at the Social Security Gallery, 549 Northgate Drive, San Rafael.

In a recent article in the Independent-Journal, the photographer's name was misspelled and the full name of the gallery was not given.

Board To Study Appointment Of President

Appointment of a new president for the College of Marin will be considered by Marin Community College District trustees today at 7:30 p.m. in Room 101 of the college's science center.

The president, to be chosen from a field of 60 applicants, will replace Dr. John A. Grasham who has been serving as both president and district superintendent. He will serve only as superintendent once the appointment is made.

Trustees met in a lengthy closed session last night to discuss the appointment and will meet again in closed session again today at 6:15 p.m.

Retiring from Congress

Honor Party Held Funded By Friends

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interior Department said yesterday a party honoring retiring Sen. Alan Bible of Nevada and Rep. Julia B. Hansen of Washington last week was funded by non-federal sources.

Columnist Jack Anderson said the party last Thursday at the Custis Lee Mansion which is in Arlington Cemetery and administered by the Interior Department was an "extravaganza" paid for by taxpayers.

Robert Kelly, department spokesman, said the party cost $1,800. He said the funds, although administered by the Treasury Department, were from contributions from 60 nongovernmental contributing groups.

These groups are involved in preseveration of monuments, historic sites, and Friends of the Parks System.

He said they donate about one per cent of the proceeds they realize from the sale of their literature and materials to provide an entertainment fund for the Secretary of Interior for hosting foreign dignitaries or, in this case, for funding the party for the two Democratic members of Congress.

Kelly said if the surroundings were pleasant it was the result of long hard work at restoration, not just for the purpose of entertaining two retiring members of Interior Department-oriented committees of Congress.

Court Upholds Disclosure Law For Politics

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California public officials must disclose their financial affairs during September, the State Supreme Court has ruled.

The unanimous decision Monday upholding California's 1973 conflict of interest law came over protests by several officials in Nevada County.

The officials had threatened to resign rather than comply with the law, which they termed an invasion of the "fundamental right of privacy."

The high court not only declared the controversial law constitutional, but specified that the officials' financial statements be disclosed for public view "in ample time prior to the November elections."

Today is Wednesday, June 19, the 170th day of 1974 with 195 to follow.

The moon is new. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

French philosopher and mathematician Blaise Pascal was born June 19, 1623.

On thid say in history:

In 1910, the first observance of Father's Day occurred in Spokane, Wash.

In 1934, Congress created the Federal Communications Commission to regulate interstate communications, including radio and television.

In 1968, more than 50,000 persons took part in a "Poor People's" march in Washington, D.C.

In 1973, Soviet Communist Party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev, visiting Washington, asked congressional leaders for trade concessions for his country. The cold war, he said, is over.

A thought for the day: American author Elbert Hubbard born on this day in 1859 said, "If you work for a man. . . in heaven's name work for him."

Gathering In The Trumps Is Not Big Key To This Contract

It's important to grab a certain kind of trick before the mice get at it. Trump tricks are not, however, in this class; if you don't take them early, you get them later. And, like cheese, a trump trick may ripen if you give it time.

HEART ACTION

West opens the jack of hearts, and the defenders continue the suit for three rounds. South must ruff the third heart with the jack of spades to have any chance at all for his contract.

You can see what happens if West is afraid of the mice. He overruffs with the queen of spades. This overruff costs West only one trick — the setting trick.

No matter what West leads back, South can get to dummy for a spade finesse. He wins a finesse with the ten of spades and draws the two remaining trumps with the ace. He then claims the rest of the tricks.

PROMOTION

Now see what happens if West refuses to overruff at the third trick. After the jack of spades has been played, West's nine is promoted in rank. Instead of being the sixth highest trump it is the fifth highest.

South wins the third trick with the jack of spades and gets to dummy to try a trump finesse. No matter how he plays the trumps he must lose one trick to the queen and another to the nine. Losing two hearts and two spades, South is down one.

MORAL CLEAR

The moral is clear: Don't be in a hurry to overruff declarer when you have a sure trump trick in any case. Discard instead, and perhaps your one sure trump trick may blossom into two tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You have:
♠ - Q 9 2
♥ - J 7/8
♦ - 9 8 2
♣ - 10 9 5 4 2.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

Do not respond when you have only three points in high cards and mediocre distribution as well.

Deadly Game

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The National Automobile Club reports that more than 1.9 million people died in the United States as a result of motor vehicle accidents from 1900 through 1972.

A WELCOME COMPARISON

Occasionally we are fortunate enough to get a home such as this. Outstanding area, close to schools and shopping. Large lot with plenty of parking, and most important, an extra large, immaculate luxury home that can not be duplicated. Starting with the immense family room with rock fireplace, cathedral ceilings, ceramic tile floor, wormwood paneling (this room is unbelievable), large living room with another rock fireplace, 3 large bdrms., 2 baths, large modern kitchen, separate utility room and 2 car garage. We could go on and on with all the features, but see for yourself. This can not be duplicated at $53,950.

YOU WON'T BELIEVE IT

In a little known and very exclusive Sausalito view area we have just listed a jewel of a house. This adult home with 2 ample bdrms. and 2 full baths must be seen to be believed. Giant old beams from the Donner Pass frame the stone fireplace; teakwood paneling in the living areas. Many built in furnishings and the piece de resistance is one wall of the living room — a diorama of boulders and rock with plants and trees growing to the skylights above. Shown by appointment only thru this office. $92,500.

INVITATION FOR PROPOSAL

Sealed bids will be received at the office of Marin Municipal Water District, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera, California 94925, until 10:00 A.M., Tuesday, July 9, 1974, at which time they will be opened and read in the Board of Directors room by the Secretary or her designated representative for the grading of the Elinor Avenue Tank site, Mill Valley, Marin County, California.

The general prevailing rate of wages in the locality in which work is to be performed has been ascertained by the District and published under the provisions of Section 1773 of the California Labor Code.

Copies of the prevailing wage rates are on file in the office of the Secretary of the District at 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera, and in the office of the Marin County Clerk, and are available upon request from the Secretary at the above address and also from the Marin County Department of Public Works, Civic Center, Room 304, San Rafael, California.

Sundays and holidays shall not be less than two (2) times the above rates. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Proposals will be considered for the complete job only. The proposal must be submitted on the form provided and must be accompanied by a Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond as a guarantee that the bidder will, if successful, promptly execute a satisfactory contract and furnish bonds as required by these specifications. The Certified Check, Cash, Post Office Money Order or Bid Bond shall be not less than ten (10) per cent of the total amount of the bid and shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the Marin Municipal Water District.

Proposals must be submitted in a sealed envelope addressed to the attention of Mrs. Norma L. Smith, Secretary, with the words "Proposal for Elinor Avenue Tank Grading" clearly marked on the outside of the envelope.

Specifications may be obtained at 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera, the office of the District. The $25.00 deposit required for each set of specifications will be refunded when specifications are returned to the District. It is requested that those Contractors wishing a Water District representative to accompany them on their first visit to the site of the work, notify the District sufficiently in advance so that necessary arrangements may be made.

Progress payments will be made.

RAILROAD REMINISCENCE AT THE OLD RAILHEAD

A few sons of old railroad men -- and a few of the railroad men themselves — gather in Tiburon to recall the days when wages were 33 cents an hour, hamburger 10 cents a pound, and Tiburon was a major railhead and switching station for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Seated around the table with moderator Elva Paske (left) are (left to right) Frank Brooks, Marshall Silverthorn, Waldo Ericson, and Alan Creighton. "If you were from a railroad family", said Creighton, who worked as a $2.60 a day section camp laborer in the job-scarce 1930s, "they could always find you a job some place." Last night's gathering was part of the Tiburon anniversary celebration.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Assembly Gets Pay Proposal

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A proposed constitutional amendment guaranteeing California's 120 lawmakers an annual pay increase to keep even with rising inflation has passed the Senate and moves to the Assembly today.

If given final approval in the Legislature and passed by voters, the measure (SCA51) would free lawmakers forever from the politically explosive task of having to enact their own salary hikes.

The pay now is $19,200 annually, but lawmakers are due for a raise to $21,200 at the end of this year. They also receive generous expense benefits, making them the highest paid in the nation.

The election-year proposal was offered by Senate President Pro Tem James R. Mills, D-San Diego, and squeaked through the Senate yesterday on a 27-11 vote, the bare two-thirds majority needed.

It would "freeze" the basic salary rate beginning next year. Cost-of-living increases would be granted each year thereafter by the state Personnel Board, which determines salaries for civil service workers.

The raises would be based on California's inflation rate, which government officials estimate at 9.4 per cent this year. Increases could be less, but never more than the jump in inflation.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, the author of pending legislation for a flat 10 per cent salary increase, argued Mills' proposal did not go far enough in paying lawmakers what they were worth. "We deserve much higher salaries than we get or would get under this bill," he declared.

The Beverly Hills Democrat reluctantly switched from a "no" to "yes" vote when it appeared the proposal might be defeated.

Another lawmaker, Sen. H.L. Richardson of Arcadia, a Republican nominee for U.S. Senate, blamed state spending for contributing to inflation and urged the proposal be rejected. "We're part of the problem," he told the Senate.

Mills offered the measure as a compromise to assure a pay increase, but avoid the election-year woes that traditionally accompany such outright moves. He declared that despite considerable attention given the measure, he had received no letters from angry voters.

SIGNATURES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A candidate for office could collect voter signatures in lieu of paying a filing fee under legislation which has unanimously passed the Senate.

The bill (AB914) by Assemblyman Raymond Gonzales, D-Bakersfield, was approved yesterday on a 29-0 vote and returned to the Assembly for concurrence in amendments.

The state Supreme Court last month ruled unconstitutional a California law which required anyone except an "indigent" to pay a filing fee before he could run for office.

MEAT IMPORTS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A resolution asking President Nixon to place restrictions against importation of meat into the United States was introduced yesterday by Assemblyman Ray E. Johnson, R-Chico.

"Our cattle industry is one of the major economic factors in our agri-business communities and we have to do everything possible to keep this all important segment in a healthy condition," Johnson said in his resolution.

HOME LOANS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state would finance low-interest home loans for middle and low income Californians under a legislative package which has passed the Senate.

The proposal would be contingent upon voter approval of a $500 million bond issue to get the project started. It and the bond issue measure (SB1634) were sent to the Assembly yesterday on 29-8 votes.

The chief measure (SB1633) by Sen. George Zenovich, D-Fresno, would establish a state corporation to operate the program. From the bond issue, the agency would funnel the revenue to banks, mortgage companies and local redevelopment agencies to provide low-interest home loans.

GUIDELINES

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislation establishing new guidelines for the release of criminals from state mental institutions was signed yesterday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The bill (AB1291) by Assemblyman Barry Keene, D-Eureka, provides that a criminal offender confined to a state mental hospital could be temporarily released to the county mental health facility for up to 30 days before being fully released.

Keene said that during the transitional period the patient would be given time to readjust to society while mental health personnel would have the opportunity to judge the patient's actual readiness before allowing him to finally re-enter society.

KIDNAP PACKAGE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A three-bill package designed to avoid Patricia Hearst-style kidnapings has won unanimous passage from the Senate.

One measure (SB2198) would forbid corporations from paying ransom. Another (SB2199) would make it a crime for anyone to receive extorted money or goods, even in a "give-away" program such as conducted in the Hearst kidnaping. The final bill (SB2197) would "void" any prison releases or pardons obtained in an extortion demand.

BART STAND

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill permitting a reduction in the size of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District has passed the Senate despite warnings it could worsen the rail system's financial problems.

The measure (SB1877) by Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, was sent to the Assembly yesterday on a 21-9 vote, a bare majority.

It would allow taxpayers who are not served by BART trains to be pulled out of the district. Nejedly said it was a matter of fairness.

ACTION DELAYED

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill designed to require large oil producers, such as Standard Oil, to divest themselves of their company-owned service stations has suffered a setback in the Senate.

The controversial measure (SB1879) by Sen. Alan Robbins, D-Van Nuys, was scheduled to be taken up for a floor vote yesterday.

But Sen. Randolph Collier, chairman of the powerful finance committee, was miffed that the measure was withdrawn from his committee without his permission. After lengthy bickering, Collier won a vote to return the bill to his committee where its fate is uncertain.

REGENT PLAN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Proposed shakeup of the University of California's Board of Regents that might add student and faculty members has won approval from a key legislative committee.

The current 16-year terms of UC regents would be chopped back to 12 years after March 1, 1976, under the proposed state constitutional amendment authored by Sen. Albert Rodda, D-Sacramento.

Rodda's proposal, backed by the UC regents, cleared the Assembly Education Committee yesterday.

It would drop the presidents of the state Board of Agriculture and the Mechanic's Institute of San Francisco from the board and would add the vice president of the UC Alumni Association.

A Nixon Tape Adds More Fuel To Watergate Cover-Up Fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some members of the House Judiciary Committee think they've found evidence on one of President Nixon's own tapes that he knew of the Watergate cover-up four days earlier than he has insisted he first learned of it.

The point may seem minor but could be crucial. If the tape does establish that, it could undermine Nixon's Watergate defense.

It would throw into question his contention that, acting decisively and swiftly, he initiated "intensive new inquiries" immediately upon learning on March 21, 1973, of his administration's complicity.

The tape the committee heard yesterday was of a June 4, 1973, conversation. In that conversation, according to Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., and some other members, Nixon acknowledged knowing of "the possible involvement of White House personnel" in the cover-up as early as March 17.

At today's closed-door session, the committee was to look into the very event which brought life to Congress' impeachment inquiry —the firing of Archbibald Cox as special Watergate prosecutor last Oct. 20.

The issue is whether Cox's firing represents part of an obstruction of justice by Nixon.

Also under examination is whether the famous 18 ½ minute gap in another tape can be considered destruction of evidence.

After they had heard the June 4, 1973, tape, members disagreed on whether it showed Nixon had revealed knowledge of the cover-up prior to March 21, 1972.

So staunch a Nixon defender as Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-Calif., said the tape showed Nixon had at least an "inkling" of his administration's involvement in the cover-up.

Rep. Walter Flowers, D-Ala., paraphrased Nixon as saying "perhaps, maybe I know of something around March 17." But, he said "it was not a definite admission." Rep. Delbert Latta, R-Ohio, however, said he heard no admission at all.

John M. Doar, special impeachment counsel, said the committee had renewed its request for a March 17, 1973, tape which would establish with finality whether Nixon knew of the cover-up on that date. It was one of the first tapes subpoenaed by the panel.

Doar said James D. St. Clair, Nixon's lawyer, told him the request was under review. He quoted St. Clair as saying, "The President hasn't made up his mind about it."

Husband No Longer Interested In Sex, At Least Not At Home

Mrs. J. T. writes: "My 56-year-old husband must be going through the 'male climacteric.' He has become irritable, absent-minded, and seems to have lost interest in his many hobbies. Although he was never a Don Juan, his interest in sex has flown out of the window. Yet he is mighty perky when in the company of the young secretaries in his office (or so I am told). I'm disappointed, but not exactly worried because, if need be, I could do without him. Will hormones similar to those given women in the menopause help him?"

There have been discussions for many decades as to whether men go through a "change" similar to the female menopause. When women reach this stage, their ovaries become less active and their estrogen (female sex hormone) supply dwindles. Conversely, the male hormone (testosterone) supply reaches its peak during the early twenties and very gradually declines from then on.

IN MIDDLE age, the man has about half of what he had in early adulthood. The loss seldom is noticed until some personal crisis occurs and he realizes that he is getting old.

Perhaps a younger man got a promotion he was in line for or he feels less agile and virile. It may be that his hearing, vision, or senses of smell and taste are not as keen as they were. At any rate, it is a depressing situation and how it is handled depends upon the type of man he is. Some men take to drinking; others become hypochondriacs, do poorly at work, or begin to chase women young enough to be their daughters.

AT THIS critical time, a wife may or may not be helpful. If she berates her husband, something is going to pop — even though he gave her the same treatment when she had menopausal symptoms. Some couples even resort to divorce. This period has been called the male climacteric or middle-aged male syndrome. The best approach is to realize that this is not the end, but the beginning of a new phase of life. Adjustments will be necessary and despair must give way to enthusiasm. The man should fall back on whatever powers remain. Treatment with testosterone may help psychologically, but it is not always advisable.

Dr. Van Dellen welcomes reader questions. While he cannot reply to them individually, he will answer those of general interest in his column. Write to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

CABIN FEVER

M. A. S. writes: I hear people say they are about to go crazy staying home doing nothing. This doesn't bother me at all and I wonder why so many can't stand it.

REPLY

My dog, Josephine, long since gone to her reward, didn't mind it and neither do many lazy, dreamy introvertive individuals. There is nothing wrong with staying home if you like it and someone else provides the food, shelter, and clothing. By "doing nothing," I assume you mean just sitting or sleeping. To some people, puttering about and accomplishing very little carries this connotation. You neglected to mention your age, but many oldsters enjoy being alone and out of the rat race.

PROTRUDING EARS

M. S. writes: Can anything be done for protruding ears, besides plastic surgery?

REPLY

No, except to learn to live with them.

VENESECTION

Mrs. V. writes: I understand that years ago doctors treated all kinds of diseases, such as infections and dropsy, by bleeding the patient. What was this supposed to accomplish?

REPLY

The old-timers believed that venesection would remove the poison causing the disease. Oddly, the ensuing weakness often was mistaken for relaxation. At one time, it was said that doctors shed more blood than was lost on the battlefield.

San Rafael, air quality yesterday:
Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.
Other areas:
San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, clean air.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources but the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Quake In Greece

ATHENS (UPI) — An earthquake registering five degrees on the Richter scale jarred an area west of Athens yesterday.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

KQED (9), 8 p.m. — "Woman Alive," a documentary produced in collaboration with Ms. Magazine, examines the new roles women see for themselves today and the part men play in their lives.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8:30 p.m. — A lonely young girl, searching for herself, finds a new meaning to life when her estranged father gives her a legacy of tapes her dead mother recorded for her 17 years before, in "A Message to My Daughter," a moving story starring Bonnie Bedelia, Martin Sheen and Kitty Winn.

KQED (9), 9:30 p.m. — "Joyce at 34," a film portrait of a woman who reconciles her conflicting desires to have a child, be a good mother and pursue a career, will be shown as a special presentation.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 10 p.m. — Special guest star Tina Louise portrays a drug-addicted prostitute who holds the key to the men responsible for her enslavement, as well as for the murders of her talkative roommate and a crusading television reporter in "Die Before They Wake," a segment of the crime drama series "Kojak," starring Telly Savalas.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 11:30 p.m. — "Razzle Dazzle Rock 'n Roll," a "Wide World of Entertainment" presentation, blends visual comedy with the sounds of the Top 40 and stars Bloodstone, Canned Heat, Fabian, Redbone, Steve Martin, Our House, Maxine Weldon and Peter Yarrow and spotlights members of the innovative Kentucky Fried Theater as its resident comedy group.

Ford Denies 'Zig-Zagging'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Vice President Gerald Ford says he is not "zig-zagging" in his support of President Nixon, but has asked the President to cooperate with the House Judiciary Committee.

"It's completely ridiculous to think that I'm zig-zagging in any way," Ford said yesterday in a telephone interview from Washington on a radio talk show program hosted by former Mayor Sam Yorty.

"I am completely confident that the President is innocent of all charges," he said. "The only way I have zig-zagged is by asking the President to cooperate with the judiciary committee when any pertinent questions are asked."

Tax Impact Of Housing Said Heavy

DAVIS (UPI) — The average new home in California had to sell for $41,408 in 1972 to support the municipal and school services used by residents of that home.

This is the conclusion of a group of researchers at the University of California at Davis following a study of an economic report published by the California Builders' Council last year which said a homecost factor of $30,075 was necessary to "break-even" in 13 California development projects.

The researcher's conclusion has resulted in a study group recommending that a fiscal impact statement — similar to the currently required environmental impact report — be submitted to get development approval.

Additionally, the report suggests that offsetting subsidies from the state to local units of government be considered in those cases where moderate and low-priced housing projects are desirable but would have a negative economic impact on the community.

Pro-Transit Youth Group Will Gather

Marin Union of Students for Transit, a student group organized at Marin Catholic High School to study Marin transit, will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Bank of Marin, San Rafael.

Kevin Calegari, one of the student-organizers of the group, said membership is open to students from throughout the county who wish to study transit. He said areas to be studied during summer months will be discussed tomorrow.

Seven Scouts Due Eagle Awards

Seven youths from the Larkspur-Corte Madera area will be awarded the rank of Eagle Scout in a Court of Honor Sunday at 3 p.m. at Red Hill School in San Anselmo.

They are: Albert H. Lucia, Robert A. Richard, Robert J. Kamai, Kenneth H. Sutherland, David L. Hiller, Charles D. Ramsey and Gary A. Claeys.

The seven are members of Scout Troop 24, sponsored by the Lions Club of Corte Madera. Their scoutmaster is John H. Sutherland of Corte Madera.

Lucia, 17, graduated last week from Redwood High School and will be a freshman at College of Marin in the fall. He is a member of the Redwood Honor Society and was editor of the school paper, the Redwood Bark. He also is a Corte Madera Town recreation leader.

His Eagle project was to construct a camp fire circle in the Corte Madera Town Park. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Lucia of 19 Seminole Avenue, Corte Madera.

Richard, 19, has completed his freshman year at the University of California, Los Angeles.

His project was to put in a drainage pipe and do other odd jobs at "the House," temporary quarters for relatives visiting inmates at San Quentin Prison. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Richard of 82 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera.

Kamai, 18, completed his freshman year at the University of California, Davis. He is the editor of the school's newspaper, the Cal Aggie, and is sergeant-at-arms for the Yolo County Young Republicans.

He planned the 1972 Redwood District Camporee, supervising about 200 scout participants over a six-month period, as his Eagle project.

He is the son of Ingrid Kamai of 2 Fairview Avenue, Corte Madera.

Sutherland, 17, the scoutmaster's son, graduated this month from Redwood High School where he was a member of the Amateur Radio Club and the Math Club. He was awarded a Bank of America achievement award nd the A. B. Dick Scholarship to Stanford University. He plans to major in environmental engineering at Stanford this fall.

Sutherland also was involved in the Corte Madera park campfire construction.

Hiller, 15, completed his sophomore year at Redwood. He is a member of the a capella choir and vocal ensemble, and has had roles in several Redwood musical productions.

For his project, Hiller cleaned and repaired Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur and constructed a church office. He is the son of R. Joyce Hiller of 15 Corte Del Bayo, Larkspur and the late William W. Hiller.

Ramsey, 14, is entering his sophomore year at Marin Catholic and is an honor student. He plays lacrosse and ice hockey in youth programs in Marin, umpires Little League baseball games, and is a newspaperboy for the Independent-Journal.

Ramsey's task was to assist the "Tiny Tim's Christmas" project by organizing troop members to paint and decorate the workshop, collect toys and assist in their distribution to poor children. He is he son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Ramsey of 12 Baltimore Avenue, Corte Madera.

Claeys, 17, is entering his senior year at Redwood. He also worked on the campfire project. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Claeys, 7 Chickasaw Road, Corte Madera.

Marin Homeowner's Notebook

WHAT'S 150 TIMES MORE DANGEROUS THAN FIRE?

Everybody carries fire insurance.

And yet, most Marin County homeowners have absolutely no protection against a far greater danger to their home investment than fire, flood, windstorm, lightning, and earthquake combined. Their insurance doesn't cover this peril. They don't even take reasonable care to avoid it.

In the past year, fire caused structural damage to an estimated 300 private homes in Marin County. One out of every 250 homes.

But in our two generations of business here in Marin, inspecting one out of every twelve homes in the county, we've found active infestations of termites, dry rot, boring beetles and other destructive pests in slightly over 80% of all homes. Eight of every ten homes. That's in brand new homes, older homes, little cottages, expensive mansions. That's in every single community in Marin.

Statistically, that makes termites and other structural pests some 175 TIMES as dangerous to your home as fire.

It's no small damage, either. The average cost of repairs to these pest-damaged homes is over $350. An alarmingly high number have damage in the $1200-$1500 range. And at least ten homes in Marin are discovered each year with $10,000 to $15,000 in damage caused by long-neglected structural pest infestations.

The cost of a Hinkley & Gordon inspection, the most thorough in Marin, is $50 for the average home. On the average, we find about $100 in preventative maintenance items or minor clearance of structural pests in an annually-inspected home.

And we think you'll agree that it's a pretty reasonable annual investment, considering the amount of danger and what you stand to lose.

Can we schedule your inspection?

Reagan Asks Backing For Reform Plan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday asked the two political action groups which spearheaded passage of Prop. 9 over the governor's opposition to try to save his own political reform program.

Reagan's eight-part package, announced in late April in the face of Prop. 9, presently lies in shreds in the legislature.

In asking Common Cause and People's Lobby to support his package, Reagan said it would "strengthen" Prop. 9, the Political Reform Act of 1974 overwhelmingly approved by the voters June 4.

Reagan told a capitol news conference California voters "made their will known clearly by their massive vote for Prop. 9."

But "despite the mood of the people, a few legislators last week killed in committee reform bills that would have moved the primary election from June to September, would prohibit public employees from campaigning during working hours," and other reform actions, Reagan said.

"Some legislators continue to resist real reform, giving it only lip service," Reagan declared.

Last week, committees defeated or sent to legislative limbo six major pieces of Reagan's program. Only two measures remain active.

Asked why the two organizations now should support his legislative program when he opposed Prop. 9, the governor replied: "I had no quarrel with the purpose of Proposition 9. I felt that in some instances it was badly written."

The governor insisted his bills "would strengthen and add to Proposition 9." The reform package is "not in conflict with it but would add to it," he said.

Joyce Koupal of People's Lobby later said the group would "take a look" at Reagan's bills.

Mike Walsh, California chairman for Common Cause, said "we would have to study them very carefully before committing ourselves in any way. If the board felt the proposal had sufficient merit and we had the resources, then we'd act accordingly. And the contrary would be equally true."

Whale's Death Cause Sought

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — Mamuk, the 6,000-pound killer whale who performed at a marine world, died last week of asphyxiation, according to an autopsy report.

"We have not determined how the asphyxiation was caused, but we have been able to rule out some factors," Dr. Kenneth Gray of Texas A&M's College of Veterinary Medicine said yesterday. "It was not caused by drowning, vandalism, inadequacies in food or water quality or other extrinsic factors causing unconsciousness."

Birth Control Item Packaging Corrected

CHICAGO (UPI) — A pharmaceutical firm has resumed shipment of an intrauterine copper contraceptive after correcting a flaw in its packing machinery.

G.D. Searle and Co. said the IUD, which it had voluntarily removed from the market because of a malfunction on the sealing machinery, will move to its regular markets again.

Eight Teams At Crucial Point In World Cup Soccer Scramble

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Steadily separating the good from the ordinary, the World Soccer Cup entered a crucial stage today for eight teams in the second half of the draw.

Sweden, Bulgaria, Uruguay, Holland, Italy, Haiti, Poland and Argentina all faced matches which could decide whether they become members of the elite last eight, or take part in the rest of the tournament as television spectators.

With 12 games played, this was the situation:

—West Germany qualified for the second final round.

—Australia and Zaire faced certain elimination.

—No South American team has yet won.

—Group Two has produced a thrilling cliff-hanger finale.

West Germany, the home team and favorite to lift the cup, beat Australia 3-0 yesterday and when East Germany managed only a 1-1 draw with Chile, entered the last eight with a game still to play.

In another development yesterday, Haiti fullback Ernst Jean-Joseph was banned by the International Football Federation (FIFA) for the rest of the World Cup for failing a dope test.

Traces of the stimulant, phenylmetrazine, were found in the test taken following Haiti's 3-1 loss to Italy Saturday, according to an FIFA statement.

Jean-Joseph, who is thus the first player ever to be banned from the World Cup for taking a prohibited drug, said the drug was prescribed by his doctor in Haiti for asthma.

Chile, facing Australia Saturday while East Germany meets West Germany, was the favorite to accompany the home side from group one into the final stage of the tournament.

In Group Two, Scotland and Brazil fought out a goalless draw while Yugoslavia crushed hapless Zaire 9-0 to equal the world cup record score.

With Zaire certain to go out, the wide-open battle to qualify for the second final round hinges on Saturday's games when Yugoslavia meets Scotland and Brazil plays Zaire.

At present Scotland and Yugoslavia each has three points and Brazil two. If there is a result in the Scotland-Yugoslavia match, the winner will qualify. If it is a draw, the qualification could depend on goal average, assuming Brazil beats Zaire. Brazil would have to win by a minimum three-goal margin to edge Scotland or by 10 goals to go ahead of the Yugoslavs.

The Brazilians have yet to score after 180 minutes of World Cup finals football.

Group three favorite to qualify was Holland, who lined up against Sweden today. The other group game matched Uruguay, still seeking its first point, and Bulgaria, which has one point.

In group four, Italy (two points) confronted Argentina (none) and Poland (two) faced 1,000-1 outsider Haiti.

It looked like curtains for the Haitians with Poland and Italy favorites to progress.

WHERE'S THE BALL? — Jack Reilly, goalie for the Australian soccer team, jumped in vain to block the ball as it zoomed into the net in yesterday's World Cup play in Hamburg, West Germany. The goal was kicked by West Germany's Wolfgang Overath, who led his team to a 3-0 victory over the Australians. (AP Wirephoto)

CARDINALS' BROCK

Giants Dazzled By 'Old Man'

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Lou Brock, joking about his birthday, said, "I'll still be only 35 tomorrow."

Brock, running as if he were half his age, laughed his way through the St. Louis Cardinals' 3-0 shutout of the San Francisco Giants last night on his 35th birthday. He singled twice, scored twice and stole his 41st and 42nd bases of the season.

And Brock, who this month completed one full decade in a Cardinals' uniform, showed a few younger players the value of experience. After he singled and stole second in the seventh, he headed toward third on a ground ball by Ted Sizemore. Tito Fuentes threw the ball to Steve Ontiveros at third, but somehow Ontiveros missed the tag on Brock.

"He couldn't tag me," Brock grinned. "The ball was off target, and I was blocking his view. I think that, if I had tried to slide, he would have tagged me. But I stood up and walked in while he was trying to find the ball.

Brock's speed has always flustered opponents, and he scored when relief pitcher Elias Sosa bobbled a grounder by pinch-hitter Jose Cruz in front of the mound.

"It didn't make any difference because nobody was covering the plate anyway," Brock said. "The catcher also came out to the ball, so Sosa would have had to throw to first."

Brock's efforts were not in vain because St. Louis starter Alan Foster held the Giants to five singles. Foster had been demoted to the bullpen since May 28 with a 1-5 record, and this start was a test for him.

"If I had messed up this time, I would have been in the dog house for another three or four weeks," Foster said.

"Foster was in command of all his pitchers," said manager Red Schendienst. "He was getting his changeup over the plate for the first time."

Moret Gets A Chance; A's Suffer

OAKLAND (UPI) — It took the Boston Red Sox until the first of July a year ago before they finally gave Rogelio Moret a chance to start a game.

He went on from there to a 13-2 year, and he did it with an aching knee that was operated on during the past winter.

As might be expected, Moret went to the Red Sox training camp in the spring fully confident he had a job, but wait a minute. The club had picked up a lot of help in trades— pitchers such as Rick Wise, Juan Marichal, Reggie Cleveland and Dick Drago—and there simply wasn't room for Moret in the rotation.

But now Marichal and Wise are hurting and so, too, is the Red Sox staff. So Moret was pressed into service last night. He gave up 10 hits but he also struck out 10 in going the distance in a 6-1 victory over the Oakland A's that restored Boston's lead in the American League East to 3 ½ games.

Does that mean Moret now has a job as a starter?

"No," said Red Sox skipper Derrell Johnson. "His status remains the same. He's still a spot starter and a long reliever. Nothing has changed because of this one game."

"I don't mind," said Moret. "I'll do what they want, but I think I can pitch as a starter. I'll wait. Maybe I'll get a chance. I think I can pitch against any club."

The A's threw a solid right-handed lineup against the stringbean lefthander from Puerto Rico in last night's game and he got through it by driving the batters back with a fastball and setting them up with a big curve.

"When my curve is breaking like it did in this game," said Moret, "I think I can beat anyone."

IN FOSTER BOUT

Officials Deny Local Favoritism

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Local boxing officials have rejected charges of hometown favoritism in the 15-round draw that allowed Bob Foster to retain his world light heavyweight crown.

A controversy erupted yesterday because the split decision prevented challenger Jorge Ahumada of Argentina from capturing Foster's title. The fight here Monday night was televised internationally.

"We'll be glad to schedule a meeting to satisfy everybody as to the situation," said Walter Brown, chairman of the Bernalillo County Boxing and Wrestling Board, which supervised the fight. He said, however, that no official request for a hearing had been filed.

"A draw for me here is like a victory," said a dejected Ahumada after battling Foster. "It was a close fight, but I thought I had a victory. But he's the champ, and he was fighting in his hometown."

Under the 10-point must scoring system, referee Jimmy Cleary favored Ahumada 145-142, judge Tim Keleher backed Foster 148-143 and judge Stan Gallup rated both fighters even at 144-144 to force the draw.

Both Cleary and Keleher penalized Ahumada one point for a low blow in the 10th round. But Gallup called the left-hand punch accidental and said it did not affect his scoring.

Brown said Ahumada's representatives had checked the score cards and were satisfied that the tally sheets were official.

Foster, a local sheriff's sergeant, had indicated he was satisfied with the outcome and suggested that the fight was difficult to judge. "I think I had a little edge," the champion noted. In New York, Gil Clancy, Ahumada's manager, said he would petition the World Boxing Association, World Boxing Council and other groups to name Ahumada the champion because of the dispute.

In Buenos Aires, President Juan Peron of Argentina praised Ahumada for his fight, which was televised to home sets in the South American nation.

Basketball Merger Stalls; Commissioner Voting Set

NEW YORK (AP) — The possibility of merger between the National and American Basketball Associations apparently has been run into a temporary roadblock and both leagues again will operate as separate entities next season.

The NBA Board of Governors was scheduled to vote today or tomorrow on the merger issue — after trying to choose between Los Angeles lawyers Alan I. Rothenberg and Henry J. Steinman Jr. to succeed the retiring J. Walter Kennedy as commissioner.

A vote of 14 members of the 18-man board is needed for passage in both matters.

But an ABA owner, preparing for his league's meetings in Louisville, Ky. tomorrow and Friday — a gathering that Commissioner Mike Storen has said would "give us our starting lineup for next season" — said he didn't think the NBA could get 14 votes for merger.

Among those NBA teams reportedly against merger are Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, New Orleans and Seattle.

Kennedy has said he did not expect a merger to be negotiated at the week-long NBA meetings that began Monday. However, it is on the agenda.

With a consolidation unlikely, the struggling ABA likely may go with eight teams for the 1974-75 season, including New York, Indiana, Kentucky, San Antonio, Denver and Utah.

The other franchises would be in Los Angeles and Cincinnati, two cities that did not have ABA teams last season. However, they would be acquiring existing ABA teams, with San Diego moving to Los Angeles and Carolina to Cincinnati.

That would mean the demise of the Virginia Squires, already under league receivership, and the Memphis Tams. Their remaining players then would be distributed among the other eight clubs in a dispersal draft, though George Thompson, the Tams' leading scorer during the 1974-75 season, already has signed with the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA and Tams No. 1 forward Wilbert Jones reportedly has been signed by the ABA's Kentucky Colonels.

Carolina's move to Cincinnati, however, could pose a problem regarding the team's No. 1 player — forward Billy Cunningham, the league's Most Valuable Player Award winner for the 1972-73 season. He reportedly has a clause in his contract saying he will play for Carolina or Philadelphia of the NBA, from where he jumped in 1972 — and no other team.

Philadelphia owner Irv Kosloff said recently he was confident Cunningham would be in a Philadelphia uniform next season.

MARIN TEAMS MOVING UP IN CYCLING

LAKE TAHOE — Marin teams are moving up in the Tour of the Sierra bike race here — literally.

Mt. Tamalpais, led by Belvedere's Gary Fisher, yesterday jumped from 19th to fourth place in the second leg of the 530-mile, seven-day race. Mt. Tamalpais' accumulated time for 111 miles is 15:14.44.

The Espoirs, with Owen Mullholland of Larkspur and Eric Madsen of Corte Madera, moved up to 18th place from 20th and have an accumulated time of 16:07.0.

Individually, Fisher is in sixth place overall.

Marin Aquatic Summer Novice Program Set

The Marin Aquatic Club's summer novice program will begin Monday at San Rafael and Redwood High Schools and Tuesday at Terra Linda high.

The eight-week program is geared toward low-pressure, pre-competitive instruction in the basic swimming strokes.

The sessions will be held at San Rafael on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 5-5:45 p.m., Redwood on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 6:30-7:30 p.m. and Terra Linda Tuesdays through Fridays from 5-5:45 p.m.

The only prerequisite is that youngsters be able to do some breathing to the side on the freestyle stroke. Cost for the eight week session is $15.

San Anselmo Softball

Group Therapy blasted Shoe Fair, 23-5, last night in a San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department adult softball league game at Hidden Valley School in Sleepy Hollow. The Group Therapy attack was led by Jeff Bernardi, Roger Hay and Steve Mack, who hit home runs.

Schembechler Named East Shrine Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bo Schembechler loves California—especially around New Year's time.

In the last five years, he has been to California three times around New Year's, twice with his Michigan team to play in the Rose Bowl and once as an assistant East coach for the Shrine East-West game.

Bo isn't taking any chances this year. Yesterday, he accepted an offer to head the East coaching staff for the Shrine game to be played this year on Dec. 28 at Stanford Stadium.

Of course, if Michigan wins the Big 10 title he'll have to pass up the East-West game for the Rose Bowl, but as the man said he wants to be sure to be in California around New Year's.

"I'm looking forward to another pleasant trip to California," Schembechler said in accepting the Shrine assignment, "and this way I know I'm going to be there for sure even if we don't go to the Rose Bowl, and I think there is a good possibility of that.

"I was proud to serve on the East staff two years ago, and it will be an honor to come back as head coach. Anyone who has ever visited those youngsters in the hospital knows why this game means so much to the coaches and players."

The game benefits the Shrine Children's Hospital in San Francisco and over the years it has raised more than $7 million for the charity.

Last year, attendance fell off to 33,000 and it was decided to move the game to Stanford Stadium for the "golden anniversary" celebration in hopes of attracting a bigger crowd. Three years ago, there was a Stanford Stadium turnout of more than 83,000 while Candlestick Park in San Francisco—the game's nominal home—was undergoing expansion.

Thomas Is Off To A Fast Start

Outfielder Tom Thomas is determined to get off on the right foot this baseball season.

Novato's Thomas batted .538 last week for the Pittsburgh Pirates' Thetford, Vt., club in the Class AA Eastern League. He blasted his second home run of the year, plus a double and five singles in 13 at-bats. He scored three runs and drove in two. Thomas sports a robust .417 batting average with 10 hits in his first 24 at-bats.

Two other Marinites enjoyed productive weeks, according to Player Periscope statistical service of Novato.

Marin City outfielder Clifford Hall improved his batting mark from .283 to .290 by hitting .364 during this period. Playing for the Chicago Cubs' Newport News, Va., team of the Class A Carolina League, Hall homered, tripled, doubled and singled in 11 at-bats. He scored two runs while driving in five. The homer was Hall's fourth of the season.

Meanwhile, San Rafael's Dewey Forry lowered his earned run average from 5.54 to 5.14 during his only appearance last week for the Los Angeles Dodgers' Waterbury, Conn. club in the Eastern League. Forry pitched one inning while giving up a hit, and a walk while striking out one.

Italian Club Rallies In Eighth To Win

The Italian Athletic Club Joe DiMaggio team got five consecutive hits in the top of the eighth inning yesterday to beat El Sobrante American Legion, 5-2, in a non-league baseball game at DeAnza High School.

Ed Anderson drove in the winning run in the eighth with a double and Marty Frey added two more with a single.

Lunny Seeks 17th Straight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Unbeaten Redwood City lightweight Ray Lunny III will seek his 17th triumph when he meets Shinji (Buzzsaw) Yamabe of Japan at the Cow Palace July 2.

Promoter Babe Griffin said yesterday a co-feature 10-rounder would be between unbeaten Sacramento featherweight Joe Guevera and another Japanese fighter, yet to be determined.

Lunny has a 16-0-2 record and has proven a popular draw among Peninsula fans.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Mounting Boat's Outboard Motor

A reader writes: My outboard boat runs smoother with the motor tilted back, but it's harder to steer.

A second asks: "Why is it so important to have the outboard motor mounted vertically on the stern of a boat? If it's so important why don't the boat manufacturers make the stern perpendicular to the water?"

Another asks: "What's this problem called cavitation? My friend says my outboard's got it . . . and I know it isn't a bad tooth."

It all shows that some outboard motor boaters still have great trouble or doubts when mounting their outboards. Here is the basic axiom relating to the problem.

Mount an outboard motor so that the cavitation plate (the flat projection just above the propeller) is parallel to the flow of the water past the boat in motion. We stress that the boat be in motion because its attitude might be slightly different to that when it is standing still.

That there are many problems in the minds of outboarders about mounting their motor is shown by these questions:

Q. When I make a fairly sharp turn in my boat, the outboard motor races and the prop seems to pull air down through the water. What causes this?

A. You have just described the phenomenon of cavitation. Under certain circumstances, when a propeller is operating too close to the surface, it sucks air down into its slipstream. Naturally, it loses efficiency and the boat slows down. It is caused by the improper mounting of the outboard motor. It's probably too high.

Q. Some outboard manufacturers call it the cavitation plate. Others say the anti-cavitation plate. What's it really for?

A. Its purpose is to prevent cavitation. Its function is to make sure that the propeller, by its suction, does not pull air into its slip stream thus creating a "cavity."

Q. When I tilt my motor slightly forward at the top, the bow rises and the boat steers better, but it runs more slowly and makes a bigger wake. What causes this?

A. First, the cavitation plate is being pulled through the water at an angle, causing underwater drag and a lot of useless wave action, thus the larger wake. And because part of its thrust is now down at the stern, it tends to tilt the bow up. It sounds as though your boat is underpowered. Try a slightly bigger motor, then I think the bow will rise and the boat will steer properly.

Q. I have tried to adjust my outboard motor in every conceivable attitude of tilt. But the bow still tends to dig in and the boat steers badly. What can be the matter?

A. This may not be a question of motor attitude at all. It could be that the hull is distorted . . . that the keel has a "hook." In other words, a sway-backtype of curvature.

Q. My dealer set our outboard motor at the right angle for what is called average conditions. He said if the boat rides bow high, put a little weight forward. Should I change the tilt pin of the motor?

A. I'd give the dealer's suggestion a thorough workout first. If you feel compelled to change the tilt angle, just move the pin one hole at a time, either way, and observe the results under varying conditions.

NHL Players Will Skip Soviet, WHA Competition

TORONTO (UPI) — National Hockey League players say they do not plan to play in either the proposed Canada-Russia eight-game series or the inter-league 15-game exhibition series.

Alan Eagleson, executive director of the National Hockey League Players' Association, made the announcements yesterday after a meeting between the players and four NHL club owners.

Eagleson told reporters both the NHL and the players' association have rejected overtures from the WHA to join the Canadian team which is scheduled to meet the Soviet Union for eight games in September.

He said the WHA has made specific approaches to Boston Bruins' stars Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito and possibly to Philadelphia goaltender Bernie Parent to join the team.

"We don't think we are obliged to take part just to roll out the flag," Eagleson said. "We wish the WHA every success nevertheless."

He said the owners and players might reconsider their decision if the timing and structure of the proposed series were changed.

He mentioned a "World Cup structure" as being preferable to the eight-game series. The players want to play only at mid-season or after the Stanley Cup play-offs in the spring.

"The players are fearful of the timing," Eagleson said. "They have already had a bad experience."

Canada narrowly won the 1972 inaugural NHL-Soviet series, but many players and officials complained that since the series was played in September they did not have enough time to get into condition.

On the WHA-NHL issue, Eagleson said the NHL players had modified their refusal to play in the 15 exhibition games which owners of clubs in both leagues have already agreed to.

The NHL appealed to the players to reverse their stand on the ground that the league would have to pay $150,000 a year to the WHA until the exhibition series was played.

The players will consider playing in the series only if some of their fringe benefits are met, Eagleson said. He estimated the cost of these demands to the league at about $100,000 a year.

The NHL estimate was about $200,000, Eagleson said.

Denver Signs North Carolina Cager Jones

DENVER (UPI) — The Denver Rockets yesterday signed standout forward Bobby Jones of North Carolina to a multi-year contract, making the 6-9 Olympian the first big name college player this year to choose the American Basketball Association over the National Basketball Association.

Denver acquired the rights to Jones from the Carolina Cougars, who selected him in the second round of the 1973 ABA draft. He was also the fifth player picked in this year's National Basketball Association draft when Houston made him its first selection.

Jones said the money offers from Houston and Denver were virtually equal, but that he was swayed to Denver by the city and the coaching staff. Larry Brown left the Carolina Cougars to become head coach with Denver several weeks ago.

"I wasn't worried about money because everything was so close," said the soft-spoken Jones. "The biggest difference was that Denver had Larry Brown, and I felt I was more secure coming to Denver than I would have been in Houston."

Brown played his college ball at North Carolina and was an assistant there for a year before he became coach at Carolina two years ago.

General manager Carl Scheer, who came to Denver along with Brown from Carolina, promised at his first news conference in Denver he would sign either Jones or John Shumate of Notre Dame, who signed with Phoenix of the NBA last week.

AFTER FIVE DAYS

Workmen Resume Superdome Job

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Workmen return to their jobs for the first time in five days at the $163 million Louisiana Superdome today after negotiators came up with a temporary settlement to the latest in a series of delaying labor disputes.

Both the contractors and spokesmen for the striking tile layers' local refused comment on the settlement, but sources close to the picketing workmen confirmed they had been ordered back on the job.

The strike began Monday, after the regular weekend break, when officials of the tile layers' union said the contractors ignored a labor mediating board order to reinstate use of regular grade concrete in the stadium concourse.

Clarence A. Smith, business agent for Tile Layers' Local 11, said the switch from regular grade cement to lightweight concrete had been made June 5 and the move had transferred responsibility for paving the concourse from his union to the cement masons.

Tuesday's settlement was not considered an end to the strike, but merely a return-to-work arrangement similar to proposals set up by other unions last month. Carpenters and cement masons have been on strike throughout the city since mid-May, but both unions had voted to exempt the Superdome from their walkouts in the public interests.

The gold-colored domed stadium is scheduled to host the next Super Bowl in January, but delays from the weather and labor disputes have virtually eliminated any chances the game will be played there. Instead, the National Football League has a contingency plan to use Tulane Stadium, an 81,000-seat arena which has already hosted two Super Bowls.

Wilkes, Warriors In Contract Impasse

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Golden State Warriors, at an impasse in their attempt to sign number one draft choice Keith Wilkes, came no closer to landing the UCLA All-America forward yesterday.

The Warriors' policy has been to avoid no-cut contracts and Wilkes is apparently demanding just that.

Canadian Gridders, Owners To Confer

TORONTO (UPI) — Veteran Canadian football league players, "retired" since Saturday, will meet league management tomorrow in Winnipeg in an attempt to break a stalemate in negotiations for a new two-year contract.

CFL commissioner Jake Gaudaur said yesterday he thinks both sides should be prepared "to negotiate as long as it takes to reach an agreement".

Gaudaur is the "third party" in the negotiations.

Winnipeg will be the third city that negotiators for the league and the CFL players' association have bargained in.

Talks broke off Saturday, when league owners did not meet players' demands on a variety of money issues, including higher payment for work in exhibition games, post-season playoffs and the Grey Cup game.

The veterans — 278 in all — immediately submitted their resignations to the league. This, in effect, was a strike since league training camps opened Saturday.

CFL regulations stipulate that a player can resign before midnight June 15 and then "come back" in the same season. Resigning after this date means the player has to sit out for at least one season.

Team coaches now have only rookies to tutor. The veterans have set up their own camps in each CFL city.

A league edict went out that equipment and facilities were not to be given to the veterans. A league spokesman said the reasoning behind the edict was that the league could be liable for injuries suffered by the veterans in their private workouts if team equipment and facilities were being used.

Enterprising Ottawa Rough Riders' veterans, however, found a way around the edict. They discovered the Riders' lease on Lansdowne Park, where the team plays and practices, had expired in November.

The players' association, meanwhile, has leased the park for its annual all-star game June 26. The players made this point to the park officials and they are now allowed to practice in the park.

Fox Should Go; Lee Should Stay

What baseball needs is more Bill Lees and fewer Charlie Foxes.

As most of you are aware, Al Michaels, the Giants excellent play-by-play announcer, put the rap on manager Fox at the conclusion of Sunday's game in Pittsburgh. He claimed, among other things, that many of the Giant players had no respect for their manager. Simply stated, nothing could be more true.

This isn't something that just cropped up, however. It is something that has been going on for years.

Charlie Fox's recent post-game comments to the press have been near-classic examples of neurosis. "Nobody is picking us up out there . . . We haven't got a pitcher who can get people out for even four or five innings . . . Do any of you writers have any suggestions? I'll take help from anybody." All these were comments made without being asked a direct question. They were volunteered information designed to let anyone who would listen know that it wasn't the manager who made all those mistakes out there.

I WENT INTO Charlie's office after a game last week. It was my first trip in because, like many of his players, I have little respect for Fox as a manager. I sat quietly while he went through many of the quotes I have just mentioned. I waited for all the other writers to leave. (Each writer without fail had volunteered a suggestion when Fox had asked for help. Each suggestion was rejected as though it were a threat.) Anyhow, after everyone was gone I introduced myself and asked if he truly did want some suggestions. Since he assured me that he did, I suggested that young John D'Acquisto might benefit from having the same catcher each time he went to the mound. Fox stated that Dave Rader had done most of D'Acquisto's catching. I told him that I was aware of that and that I didn't have Rader in mind.

Fox's answer to me was to change the subject and ask me who should have been charged with an error on a perfect throw from Rader that Chris Speier dropped. Assuring him that Speier had been correctly charged I was astonished when Fox responded," and that's the (expletive deleted) All-Star shortstop." I saw no reason to stay around and debate Speier's abilities so I excused myself.

AS I HAVE STATED before, Fox has the solution to many of the Giants problems. He should quit.

On the other side of the coin is Terra Linda's own Bill Lee. Lee has been nicknamed "Spaceman" by the Boston press. He has been made out to be a real character. He is.

When I got to the Coliseum Monday night, Lee was shagging balls in the outfield. The reason I noticed him was that he was letting line drives cross directly over his head and catching them behind his back.

When he wasn't doing that he was engaged in a soccer game played with a baseball. The sight of Bill eluding big Bob Veale was humorous, to say the least.

I waited for Boston to get through with infield practice so I could talk to Lee. It wasn't that easy. Bill spent the next half hour working his way down the right field line. He must have signed 50 autographs and talked to 15 people.

I FINALLY DID get a chance to talk to him. Lee is an extremely personable young man. He told me that he wouldn't be pitching in the Oakland series. He has had a problem with a blister on his pitching hand. He said that because of favoring the blister he had strained a muscle in his arm.

About Boston's chances, Bill said, "We're a good young team. We have great balance. Everybody here knows they are going to get a chance to play a lot."

I asked Bill about his last outing. He pitched five innings and gave up 10 hits. What was amazing is that he had won the game and, incredibly, shut out the opponent. Lee said, "It was a typical game for me. No kidding. I always pitcher like that."

I hope he continues to pitch like that for 10 years. Baseball needs him.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Baltimore's Grich: Good Field, Good Hit

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Bobby Grich learned a valuable lesson from his unsuccessful try at arbitration last winter — "good defense doesn't get you any money."

So, the major league's top fielding second baseman of a year ago decided to stress offense this season and is finding the switch very satisfying. Grich, who made only five errors last season and set a major league fielding mark for second baseman of .995, is not doing as well in the field, having already made eight errors, but he's providing the kind of power at bat the Baltimore Orioles' management wants from him.

Grich, who last year hit only 12 homers, cracked out three homers in one game last night, raising his season total to 11, in leading the Orioles to a 10-1 pasting of the Minnesota Twins. The homers gave Grich four in his last two games and increased his runs batted in total to 37, tying him for the club leadership with Tommy Davis.

"I don't think about home-run power. I do think about extra-base power. I want to hit the ball hard enough to get those doubles and triples," said Grich. "I set goals at the beginning of the season of 15 home runs and to improve on the 50 runs batted in I had last season. But it looks like I have to reestablish those now. Now I'm thinking in terms of 75 RBI's and to hit as many home runs as possible."

Grich became the first player in Baltimore history to hit three homers in a game at Memorial Stadium, and his lusty hitting made it easy for lefthander Ross Grimsley to even his record at 7-7. Grimsley, given an early lead, allowed 13 hits but went the distance for the seventh time. Oddly, the only run Minnesota scored came in the first inning and was set up by a Grich error.

White Sox 7 Indians 3

The White Sox unloaded six home runs, including a pair each by Jorge Orta and Dick Allen, to help Jim Kaat to his 200th major league victory. Carlos May and Ken Henderson also homered for Chicago, while George Hendrick hit a pair for Cleveland.

Rangers 6, Tigers 0

Jim Bibby tossed a two-hitter for his 10th victory in pitching the Rangers to victory over the Tigers. Bibby retired the first 12 men he faced and struck out seven while becoming only the second pitcher in the Rangers' three-year history to win at least 10 games in a season.

Royals 7, Brewers 0

Paul Splittorff tossed a twohitter and John Mayberry and Amos Otis slammed homers to spark the Royals' triumph over the Brewers. Mayberry's homer was his 16th of the year, giving him the AL lead.

Angels 3, Yankees 0

Nolan Ryan and Skip Lockwood combined on a five-hitter as the Angels topped the Yankees. Ryan, boosting his record to 8-6, had to leave after six innings when he developed a blister on his pitching hand. The Angels scored all of their runs in the first inning with the aid of errors by Gene Michael and Bobby Murcer.

Padres 9 Cubs 4

Rookie Dave Freiseben won his sixth game for the Padres behind a 12-hit attack which included three hits by Dave Winfield. Bill Bonham lost his 10th game of the season despite homers by Jose Cardenal, Bill Madlock and Chris Ward.

Pirates 2 Dodgers 0

Dave Giusti, making his first start after 255 relief appearances spread over a four-year period, pitched shutout ball for seven innings and won his second game with the relief help of Bruce Kison and Daryl Patterson. Bob Robertson and Gene Clines drove in the runs for the Pirates, who dealt 10- game winner Tommy John his second defeat.

Braves 6, Mets 1

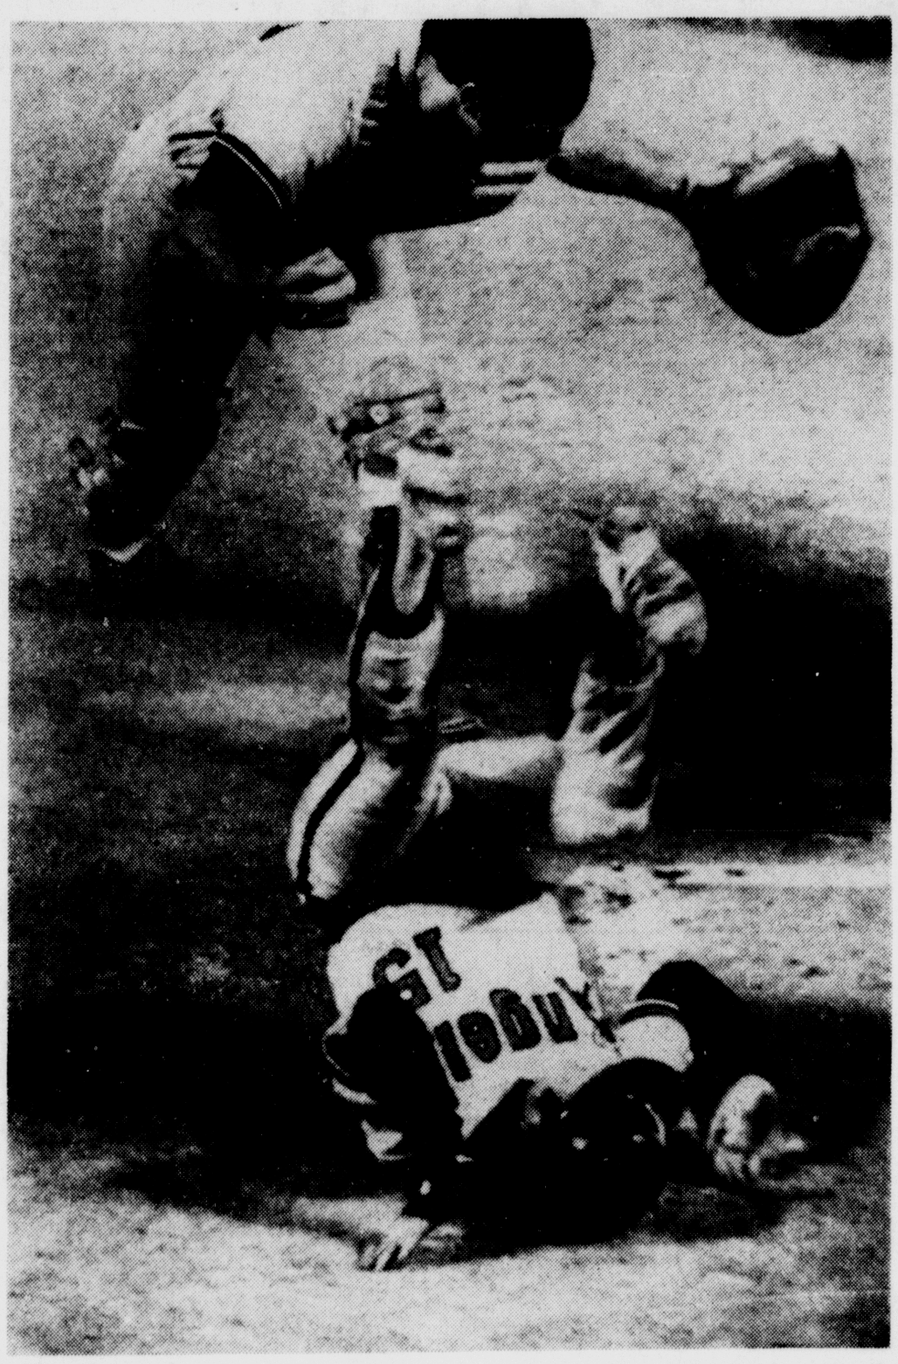
Ivan Murrell, playing because Henry Aaron was being honored by city officials in New York, hit a bases-loaded triple in the third inning to lead Atlanta over New York.

Expos 2 Reds 1

Jim Cox homered in the ninth inning to give the Expos their victory over the Reds behind the two-hit pitching of Ernie McAnally. McAnally struck out seven while walking two in raising his record to 5-6, while Clay Kirby dropped his fourth game against five wins.

Astros 1 Phillies 0

Tommy Helms' second-inning homer was the only run of the game and enabled rookie Mike Cosgrove, who took over with one out in the first inning and went the rest of the way, to win his second game for the Astros. Ron Schueler was tagged for his eighth loss against three victories.



WHICH WAY IS UP? — Denny Doyle, California Angels' second baseman, looked up at New York Yankee's catcher Thurman Munson after flipping over on his back during a first-inning score in Anaheim last night. Doyle scored when Yankee right fielder Bobby Murcer dropped a fly ball off the bat of the Angels' Frank Robinson. The Angels won, 3-0.

'Still Champ' Says Jofre Despite Lifting Of Crown

Combined AP & UPI

SAO PAULO — World featherweight champion Eder Jofre of Brazil, who Monday was stripped of his title by the World Boxing Council (WBC), said yesterday that he still considers himself to be the champ.

Jofre told United Press International that he had not received any official notice indicating that he had been stripped of his title, "and until I do, I consider myself to be the world featherweight champion."

Jofre had been given until midnight June 15 to agree to a contract signed by his representative Marcos Lazaro and Rafael Cedeno, representative for Alfredo Marcano, Jofre's Venezuelan challenger.

Jofre refused to fight under the auspices of Lazaro as a result of a bitter fight the two men have been waging over the past several months in connection with the purse Jofre was to receive if he were to sign a contract with Lazaro.

Team Tennis Averages 2,362 Fans

NEWPORT BEACH (UPI) — Led by the magnetic appeal of Philadelphia Freedoms' player-coach Billie Jean King, the 16 World Team Tennis franchises performed before 399,125 spectators prior to the Wimbledon break, an average attendance of 2,362 per match.

Figures through 169 matches released yesterday by the league office here reveal that the league-leading Freedoms are also pacing the league in attendance figures, both home and away. Surprisingly, they drew better on the road. A Freedoms' match at Minnesota attracted a noisy multitude of 10,658, largest crowd in the league's history.

Houston, which contested nine of its first 11 games away from home, averaged an impressive 2,771 spectators on hostile courts.

Come and see the Shopsmith® demonstration on June 20.

From 7:30 to 9:30 pm you can see this multi-purpose power tool at 401 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, California. (415) 383-6611. Next to Egger's Nursery. Free Parking.

Fourth Street Gasoline Pumps To Be Supplanted By Ice Cream

An old abandoned Phillips 66 gasoline station site at 1700 Fourth Street in San Rafael, next to Jack L. Hunt auto dealer, will be converted into an ice cream parlor with a garden setting in a month or two.

Old Uncle Gaylord's, San Francisco based manufacturer of old fashioned ice cream, got a long-term lease on the corner of Fourth and G streets, directly across the street from The Old Market Antiques, where the service station closed about a year and a half ago.

Gaylord Willis, president of the company, said the paved apron area of the service station will be planted with trees and shrubs, and the existing structure remodeled into an ice cream parlor with seating for about 25. "You won't have to buy ice cream to come into the garden," said Willis. "You can just walk in, sit down on the benches outside and just enjoy yourself."

Old Uncle Gaylord's in San Rafael would be the second such outlet in Marin. The first opened about six weeks ago at 1 El Paseo in Mill Valley where the Fondue Pot II was formerly located.

Brian Hunter, vice president of sales for the company, said Old Uncle Gaylord's has four outlets in San Francisco and another one scheduled to open in Burlingame, in addition to the two in Marin. The company was established in San Francisco in October of 1971.

REINHOLD F. BERGSTROM of Corte Madera was appointed vice president of Security Pacific Bank's San Rafael branch. In his new position, Bergstrom will continue his managerial duties at the San Rafael office.

Bergstrom joined the bank in 1959 in Southern California, was appointed assistant manager of the Long Beach office in 1961, assistant vice president in 1962, and manager of the San Rafael branch in 1970.

Bergstrom

Reich

W. H. REICH of Bel Marin Keys, Novato, has been elected president of the Propeller Club of the United States, Port of the Golden Gate, San Francisco. He is general manager, marine operations, of Prudential-Grace Lines in San Francisco.

Before joining Grace Line in 1946, he served in the Merchant Marine as a chief engineer. He is a member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, past president of the Marine Square Club, and port captain of the Islam Shrine Yacht Club.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES for youngsters can be livened up with a new game called Rent-A-Carnival, a brand new service offered by a Marin firm named Bean Bag PartyPak.

Principals in the company are Carolyn Solari of Kentfield, a former teacher; Sheila Tuffanelli of Kentfield, an artist; and Betty Vallee of Ross, a nurse. Their mailing address is 30 Vista Drive, Kentfield, 94904.

The Rent-A-Carnival is a complete package including eight carnival type games and all prizes and paper goods such as napkins, plates and cups needed for a party. "Just tell us how many people will attend the party, and we'll provide everything you need except the food," said Mrs. Solari. "We'll deliver, set up the games and then pick them up again after the party."

NEW DIRECTOR, NEW PRODUCT

C. Peter McDonald (left), Xerox Corp. chairman, introduces new corporate board director, Vernon E. Jordan Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, to the firm's ultrafast 9200 duplicator, believed to be the most important new product currently offered by Xerox. The two inspected the machine at the Santa Monica plant. (UPI Telephoto)

Bean Bag PartyPak has been operating for a year and a half, but only as a mail order business. The Rent-A-Carnival is an expanded service just launched this week to supplement the mail-order birthday party service.

WASH AND DRY, a new laundromat, is about ready to open at 316 Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur, the old site of the Clothes Basket, which closed several months ago.

Owner of the new business is James B. Stice of Larkspur, a real estate investor and salesman, who remodeled the interior with shingle decorations and installed stereo music. Stice's Wash And Dry, with 15 washers and seven driers, will open this weekend if all equipment arrives in time.

A model kitchen shop is planned next door at 316 Magnolia Avenue, formerly the Golden Gate Dry Cleaners, but this shop will not be ready for several months.

COAST FEDERAL SAVINGS and Loan Association, headquartered in Los Angeles, opened its new Marin office this week at 10 Main Street in Tiburon, corner of Main and Tiburon Boulevard.

Richard Killeen, assistant vice president and manager, said the new Tiburon office will hold open house from June 25 through July 25, featuring a display of the private collection of etchings by the actor, Lionel Barrymore. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 to 6 on Fridays and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

Killeen, who lives in Walnut Creek, transferred from the Richmond office, where he had been assistant vice president and manager.

B & B PRODUCTIONS, a new publishing and film-making company, just opened this week in suite 52 of the Holiday Plaza Building in Terra Linda.

Principals in the company are James Bohn of Novato and John Black, a former producer and writer in Hollywood. Bohn said the company will be engaged in various types of publishing but he cannot give specifics.

The lease of space for B & B Productions was handled by George H. Denney of Garrison Pacific Properties of San Rafael. Another lease arranged by Denney was for CIT Financial Services of San Rafael, which will open a branch office at Park Plaza Office Building in Rohnert Park at 6400 Commerce Boulevard. The building will be completed next month, and the CIT branch is scheduled to open about Sept. 1.

Inflation Lends New Meaning To Phrases

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — So extreme is the current economic scene that the meanings of trusted old words are being strained. Some may well be abandoned for the time being in favor of more escriptive terms, such as:

The shock market, otherwise known as the stock market. For those seeking big capital gains it has been just one shock after another. Some investors now are so punchy they fear an advance, convinced it is only the prelude to a bigger decline.

The crime rate, still known popularly as the prime rate, or the borrowing charge that banks assess their best corporate customers. It is now around 11.5 per cent, and many borrowers are convinced it is plain robbery.

Many consumers feel the same way, noting the tendency of businesses to pass on their higher costs in the form of higher prices. In 1947 the prime rate was only 1.75 per cent, or roughly one-sixth what it is now.

Ironically, the justification offered for high interest rates is that they are anti-inflationary. The Federal Reserve Board, for example, insists that a tight-money, high-interest rate policy is needed to curb inflation.

Ravings, sometimes known as savings. The latter term still might be serviceable if money left in the bank really grew. But it seldom does anymore. It can't grow, in fact, if the rate of inflation exceeds the interest rate.

In the 12 months to April, consumer prices rose 10.2 per cent, far exceeding the highest rates that savings institutions are allowed to pay. The highest permissible rate on savings accounts is less than 8 per cent, compounding included.

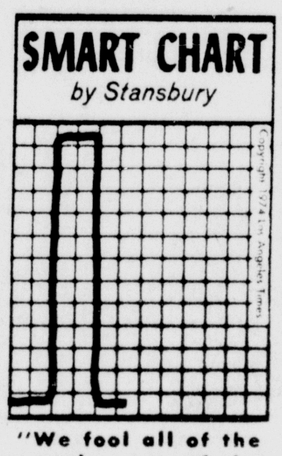
The net result is a loss of buying power, whereas the word "saving" suggests that something is maintained or even added to.

The fudge-it, also called the budget. Most families have what they call a budget to help them allocate funds, to aid them in using their money wisely, to help prevent waste. But then they fudge.

An increasingly common technique for living on a busted budget is to borrow money in order to meet bills. The appearance of a budget remains, but its guidelines are ignored, often out of necessity. The budget is fudged.

Pass through — remember the term; it has become the popular justification for price increases. The raw material supplier passes through to the manufacturer who passes through to the wholesaler . . .

On through the system the increase moves, passed like a bucket of water from one to another until it reaches you. And that's where the bucket stops; you're left holding it.



"We fool all of the people some of the time."

Wall Street Declines On Light Trade

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market marked time today as investors hewed to the sidelines awaiting some news to influence them. Trading on the New York Stock Exchange was light.

The Dow Jones industrial average was off 2.35 at 827.91 shortly before noon. The index of 30 blue-chip stocks has declined more than 21 points in the past three sessions.

Declines led advances, 678 to 317, among the 1,416 issues crossing the tape. The two-hour turnover amounted to more than 4,400,000 shares, compared with 4,790,000 traded during the same period yesterday.

The only news which should have influenced investors was a government report the United States had a record surplus in its balance of payments during the first quarter of the year. It didn't.

Prices were lower in slow trading on the American Stock Exchange. Instrument Systems was the most active Amex issue, off ¼ at 1 ⅛ on 40,700 shares.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Apparel Stocks Subject To Fads

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have a few hundred shares of Salant Corp. (NYSE) at an average cost of 10½. The company has a good record. Will you tell me why the stock is selling at only 2X earnings? Should I buy more? — M.M.

A. Yes. At Salant's current low price, the shares are more-than amply discounting any earnings slowdown or other business reversal. A moderate abatement in the company's 5-year 8 per cent compound earnings growth rate is certainly possible this year, reflecting raw materials shortages and costs associated with rising inventories. The apparel business is intensely competitive and subject to the vagaries of style swings; for this reason, earnings multiples are lower than for many other industries. Nonetheless, at the present depressed level, Salant has above-averge appreciation potential and provides a 4.6 per cent yield fom cash dividends, plus a 3 per cent stock distribution.

Q. You are the only one who can help me. I was saving since the fourth grade and am now through the eighth grade. I have only $150 saved. Because I want to go to college, I want to increase this savings in four years by investing. Tell me how can I do this. — S.P.

A. You are doing a fine job helping yourself, and with your determination I have no doubt that you will achieve your goal. As for investing your money, it is invested now in one of the best possible places, a savings account. A second and equally secure investment is U.S. government bonds. These mature in five years, pay 6 per cent interest and may be purchased in denominations of $25 and up. No matter how safe a stock might appear, you could still lose the money you have taken four years to save. Remember, you have five summers before you are ready for college. Take advantage of this free time to earn money and then save it. Other sources of college aid are available, but an important consideration in granting these scholarships and loans is the student's own work and savings record.

(Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally, but will answer all questions possible in his column.)

Patriotism Is Giving Up Penny Hoard

WASHINGTON — One of the most patriotic acts Americans of all ages can perform today is emptying the family piggy bank, according to Rex J. Morthland, president of the American Bankers Association (ABA).

Morthland said the nation faces a penny shortage that costs taxpayers millions because people are withholding some 30 billion pennies from circulation.

This means that nearly half of the 62 billion pennies the U.S. Mint has produced in the last 15 years are in hiding, Morthland said. The Mint is still producing one-cent coins at a rate of 35 million a day, he added, yet there still aren't enough pennies to go around in many areas of the nation.

Morthland urged that families start gathering those pennies that are hiding in pickle jars, old socks and piggy banks and bring them into their local banks so "the nation can get Mr. Lincoln back among the people where he belongs."

June has been declared Penny Redemption month by the Mint in an effort to cure this artificial shortage, Morthland added.

"For every $25 worth of pennies cashed in at the bank, the U.S. Treasury is going to award an Exceptional Public Service certificate to the individual or group responsible," he concluded.

Does High Court Ruling Apply To 'Thank You'?

Judge Joseph P. Murphy Jr. of Sonoma County Superior Court sounded a shade apologetic last week in his ruling that the Cotati-Rohnert Park School District must cease classroom use of a song containing the line, "Thank you, God, for everything."

Judge Murphy probably expected that his ruling would bring a storm of protest. He was not mistaken.

THEREFORE, he sought to put the blame elsewhere. He could not hold otherwise than that the song is unconstitutional, he said, because of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Engel vs. Vitale in 1962. That was the case in which the high court held that the State of New York could not mandate classroom prayers.

The Santa Rosa judge said he realized that the Engel decision was "one of the most unpopular in the nation's history." He also said he was aware that his ruling "will likely irritate people who are rightfully concerned about the decline of moral values in today's society."

But, he said, there was nothing he could do about it. In the Engel decision, he declared, the Supreme Court "squarely held that the inclusion of a classroom prayer composed by state officials in a daily program for the public schools violated the First Amendment's prohibition against the making of a law 'respecting an establishment of religion.'"

SO IT DID. But the Supreme Court in the Engel decision also said this:

"There is of course nothing in the decision reached here that is inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contain references to the Deity or by singing officially espoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a Supreme Being."

The little "Thank You" song could hardly be called an officially espoused anthem. But on the other hand, it is pretty farfetched to call it an attempt by the state to establish a religion — even though it is included in a state textbook.

Judge Murphy had a couple of other decisions to cite which bear directly on the song. It was banned by two federal appelate courts, in the Second and Seventh Circuits.

Some judges in state courts are willing to put their own interpretation of law up against that of other judges in federal courts, so long as the Supreme Court has not handed down the final word. Not many of them are, though. Either Judge Murphy did not choose to do so, or he agrees with the two federal circuit courts.

UNFORTUNATELY, the case probably will not be taken to the U.S. Supreme Court for resolution, as it should The American Civil Liberties union, which brought the suit against the school district, can preen itself on a victory in behalf of "civil rights." But where is the organization with ACLU's resources and willingness, to carry the appeal on behalf of the school district — and of the many people who regard it as utter nonsense that a song thanking God constitutes an "establishment of religion"?

There should be such an organization.

"Where are all those popularity pollsters when you need one?"

'Lolly' Good Comic; 'Tumbleweeds' Better

"Lolly" is a great comic strip, but why drop "Tumbleweeds" to add it to the paper? "Weeds" was by far the best comic you carried. Why not get rid of "The Dropouts" or "Wee Pals" or "Family Circus" instead?

Tournament Organizers Extend Their Thanks

May we as organizers of the tennis tournament played in Corte Madera and Larkspur over the week end of June 8 and 9 extend our thanks to those who made it possible. First of all, thanks to the recreation departments of both towns for sanctioning the tournament, then to the merchants who donated the prizes . . . Lastly, bouquets to the 64 men and women who participated and made it a huge success.

Larkspur Alone Protested Exemption

The Larkspur City Council has been deeply concerned about the Tamalpais Retirement Center applying for a "welfare exemption" from property taxes to the State Board of Equalization — both from the city's standponint and as individual taxpayers.

Thus on April 4 we sent a letter to the following jurisdictions notifying them of this possibility and informing them of our intention to negotiate an in-lieu agreement for city services: John Barrows, County Regional Open Space District; Ray Foreaker, Marin County Public Works; Sanitary District No. 1; Kentfield School District; Tamalpais High School District; College of Marin; Mosquito Abatement; Bay Area Pollution Control; Marin General Hospital.

Subsequently, the City of Larkspur filed a protest with the State Board of Equalization while no other jurisdictions did. We hope this will clarify our record in informing other taxing agencies of this serious situation.

Toledo Bus Plan Recommended Here

I congratulate you on your June 5 editorial on "Voter Apathy." Your advice on how to correct "political shenanigans" and warning of what could happen when we "become apathetic toward the democratic system" should have been underlined, and I hope you will remind the voters again and again before the November election.

Mr. Thiel and I voted absentee ballot, and arranged to have the I-J mailed to us with the election results. I was disappointed over the defeat of Proposition A and hope it will have another chance on the ballot in November. After experiencing the municipal bus service in Toledo, Ohio, I voted for Prop. A with the sincere hope a similar plan could be worked out for Marin County. In Toledo, the school students are issued identification passes which enable them to free passage anytime between certain hours (I think 8 to 5). I didn't see any students trying to hitch rides and they were well behaved on the busses. There is a definite need for better transportation for our high school and college students — and instead of more school busses (which are for "limited use") why not a plan that would benefit all?

I suggest a study be made of the Toledo, Ohio, bus plan by representatives from our schools, county officials and Marin County Transit District. If a similar constructive plan could be worked out, and presented to the voters, I am sure they would see an overwhelming approval in November.

Meagher Disavows The 'Fairfax Fink'

Several people in Fairfax have asked me, and my friends, if I am responsible for the anonymous "Fairfax Fink," ridiculing the council of that town. I would appreciate an opportunity to reply:-

(1) I believe that, with rare exceptions, anonymous writings should be ignored.

(2) I stand with John Hancock, reputed to have said he was signing the Declaration of Independence big enough and bold enough for King George to read without his spectacles.

(3) Anonymity may be cowardice usurping the sanctuary of modesty.

(4) I have never, NEVER, written anything anonymous in my life.

(5) "Fairfax Fink" is not written in any of my various styles.

(6) The "Fink" errs in asserting that Frank Egger dominates the Fairfax Council. It might be better at times if he did. Perhaps Petulance would dominate less often.

(7) The Fink might better direct his inquiries to the question of who, among these councilmen, was responsible for the retention of Crowe as administrator for two long, costly years after it was amply evident that he was not qualified either as an administrator or for any ability to distinguish between policy and administration. (It was NOT Egger.)

Will Giacomini Now Do Honorable Thing?

Not too long ago I enjoyed a pre-election coffee at the home of the David Freeds' and heard an earnest young man tell what he would do for Marin County if elected as supervisor, Gary Giacomini.

In office when he asked for an administrative assistant he agreed to a salary limitation. Now he has received a salary raise and Godfather Wornum refers to it as a separate matter — in effect, not our business. It is not a separate matter to us taxpayers, Mr. Wornum, when it involves higher taxes.

Now let us see if Gary will do the honorable thing and refuse that raise. Can it be possible that honor is now what Charles McCabe refers to as "nescience"?

Kindergarten Class Part Of Sinister Plot?

I really don't believe the American Citil Liberties Union! Your lead front page story of June 13 that the ACLU has filed suit against a kindergarten class for singing a four-line song which contains the word "God" once, boggles my mind. With one third of the world's population hungry, over one half of the people living under Godless communism, and countless people still being killed in Southeast Asia, it would seem that the ACLU could devote its time and efforts to better use, not to mention adding to an already overcrowded court calendar.

This paranoid organization must feel that the kindergarten class in Cotati is part of a sinister and devious plot to force religion on the rest of an unsuspecting world. If it weren't so pathetic, it would be laughable.

Crimes In The Name Of Exposing Watergate

WASHINGTON — What crimes are being committed in the name of exposing the crimes of Watergate!

They are many and the stench more than fills the nostrils.

A way must be found to stop them — not at the behest of the president, not primarily to satisfy the secretary of state, but because they are meanly and heedlessly hurting this precious nation.

THE CRUDEST, the ugliest, the most reckless of them all is the faceless effort to destroy Henry Kissinger's service to the country by innuendo and leak.

The accusers allege but do not substantiate their allegations that Kissinger had more to do than he said with ordering wiretaps of some of his subordinates and four newsmen in an effort to protect sensitive diplomatic information.

The basis of the accusations is hinted at but not disclosed.

Those who drop selective items of innuendo hide in the shadows of the House Judiciary Committee — whether they be members of the committee or staff — and refuse to come out into the open to explain what they are doing and why they are doing it.

IT REMINDS ONE of the evil days when Sen. Joe McCarthy smeared American diplomats by proclaiming, "I have in my hands a document," and then proceeding to accuse them of being traitors and spies without ever disclosing any evidence.

Some say that Secretary Kissinger should not have allowed himself to be angered by the attempt to defame his character. Some say that he should turn the other cheek and remain dumbly and stoically mute.

I believe that the secretary is doing exactly the right thing in confronting his accusers and their accusations —accusers who seem quite willing to undermine the peace-diplomacy of their government if, by doing so, they can further their political ends.

It's time somebody spoke out against these tactics, and no one can do it better then Dr. Kissinger.

INVESTIGATE AND expose the crimes of Watergate? Certainly — right to the bottom and right to the top. But the egregious offenses of Watergate do not justify egregious offenses by those wishing to take advantage of Watergate.

If Watergate defiles our political system, which it does, it is also true that the crimes of leak and innuendo also defile the political system. It is vital to call a halt on both.

The matter of the wiretaps, which were legal and proper, is only one part of the tactic which outrages the secretary of state. The day after President Nixon put American forces on a limited worldwide alert to warn Moscow against sending troops to the Middle East, some correspondents planted questions at a press conference implying that this action was just a Watergate gimmick. Thereupon these same commentators used their own questions as proof that such innuendoes were in circulation.

The use of such tactics has now become so bald and blatant that a liberal columnist like the conscientious Marquis Childs leads the protests.

What disturbs Childs is "the way each new blow at the Nixon administration brings an almost gleeful gloating," and he adds:

"The stable will have been cleaned out and that will be a satisfaction. But what comes after in a battered and bruised system appears to be of little concern to those crying loudest for blood."

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Bill Greene Out To Give High School Diploma Meaning

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Three years ago, Assemblyman Bill Greene, D-Los Angeles, introduced a bill to abolish automatic promotions in California's public schools. It never got out of committee.

Bill Greene does not give up. He bided his time, and he is back this year with another bill along the same line.

Greene's AB 56 of 1971 was a very simple bill — and very explosive. It simply stated that promotion and graduation must be based solely on achievement in the course of study, and that the age of the pupil could not be taken into consideration.

The Assembly Education Committee, strongly influenced by the educator establishment, would have none of that.

GREENE'S NEW TRY, Assembly Bill 3811, is slightly different but just as simple. It says nothing about promotion. But it would accomplish the same end by prohibiting automatic graduation from junior high or high school. Here is what it says:

"No pupil shall be graduated from any junior high school or high school unless he has received a passing grade in each class or has repeated the course of study in any class in which he does not initially receive a passing grade."

A generation ago, such a bill might have been regarded as superfluous, for it was more-or-less standard practice to require that students receive passing grades in required courses before being graduated. But no more!

The practice for some years has been to pass the student on up. If, when he leaves eighth grade, he is unable to read or write or figure well enough for high school-level courses, it is assumed the high school will give him remedial courses. If, when he completes high school, he is unable to tackle college-level work, it is assumed the community colleges — which by law must admit all high school graduates — will again offer remedial courses. Only at the college level is the student denied advancement if he cannot pass the course. In elementary schools, the only requirement for promotion is attendance. In high school, the student customarily is required to "complete" the course.

As Roger A. Freeman of the Hoover Institution at Stanford University has commented: "School attendance in a particular grade, and even graduation, no longer guarantees a specified educational level."

THE RESULT is "functional illiteracy." While few Americans are classified as illiterate for being unable to write their own names, the U.S. Office of Education has estimated that some 24 million Americans beyond the age of 18 are "functionally illiterate." It regards fifth grade level of reading, writing and mathematics as constituting functional literacy. But many of the functionally illiterate over the age of 18 are high school graduates.

Assemblyman Bill Greene's simple little bill thus contains a high explosive content.

At that, it has a better chance than his previous bill — partly because of the passage of time, and partly because by setting requirements for graduation rather than promotion, it does not run into opposition on the basis that it would do away with the somewhat popular ungraded school programs.

During the three years since Greene dropped his initial blockbuster — only to see it fizzle out — one big objection to any restriction on promotion or graduation has largely disappeared. That objection was that the schools were so crowded that it was necessary to shove the children through as rapidly as possible, and any retention in grade would contribute to already-unbearable crowding.

That no longer holds true in most districts. School enrollments are declining. Teacher unions now may feel that a law against automatic graduation might even be beneficial by keeping more teaching jobs available.

Teachers' economic interests therefore may coincide with the public interest. And, thanks to Bill Greene, eighth-grade and high school diplomas may in time come to mean something again.

CAPITOL QUIPS

By PHIL DESSAUER

It's clear now that Kissinger told the Israelis and Syrians he wanted to bring peace to the Middle East and would throw in Richard Nixon.

The hate mob in Washington is saying the only reason Kissinger is making the trip back to the Middle East is to keep Nixon under surveillance.

It might help a little in this country if somebody started a nationwide boycott of sour grapes.

ERNEST B. FURGURSON

Troubles Of Vice President: Flying Ford Falling Flat

CHICAGO — There is the theory, brought up to Vice President Gerald Ford again here the other day, that he should get off his airplane and stay home. His most urgent duty now is not to meet every potential voter in America before the 1976 election but to learn how to be president.

Obviously, since he is aloft at all hours of the day and week, that is not the vice president's own theory. His is that he is a pillar of positive strength on an otherwise negative scene, and he should display that strength to a country that yearns for someone brave, clean and reverent. And there is the additional reasonable case that pressing the flesh in every corner of the country is itself part of learning to be President.

So he takes his square jaw and bulldog delivery out and tries to meet every potential voter in America before the 1976 election. Yet even when his schedulers hand him on the same trip Flag Day, a Baptist convention and the Boy Scouts, there is no way a vice president in this year of the republic can keep the conversation upbeat.

OF COURSE, there was a chorus of "amens" beneath the applause when he told the Southern Baptist Brotherhood Conference in Dallas, Tex., that he was going to talk about "what's right in our country" for a change.

But despite that positive start, he never quite told them.

Perhaps another audience would have cheered when he told them Mr. Nixon was on a "sacred mission" in the Middle East, and asked rhetorically, "Who is to say that a divine presence is not again involved?" But the Baptists, who have their own ideas about what is sacred and what is not, never clapped a hand.

Then in Chicago it was a natural occasion for a tone poem about his fond memories of becoming an Eagle Scout in good old Troop 15 at the Trinity Church in Grand Rapids. He did just that.

But his main message was to tell the Boy Scout lunch-o-ree that the organization should rise above its own scandals. Some staff members of the scouts, of all people, have padded the membership rolls to get more funds. From the scouts' problems to the scout oath to the flag was a smooth and appropriate transition, it being Flag Day. Still it was the Nixon connection that soured an occasion that could have been all red-white-and-blue.

He kept bringing it up: "You and I know that it is ridiculous to tar the entire government and everyone in it because of the mistakes or misdeeds of a few individuals," he told them. They seemed unimpressed.

HE WAS ACCOMMODATING enough to have a quickie press conference, although one was not scheduled. Beyond that, he did not volunteer for combat, but he entered it as stolidly as he used to handle the Ev-and-Gerry Show back when he and Sen. Everett Dirksen put out the party line together every week on the Hill.

The questions would not let him change the subject, and he showed no sign of wanting to. The grand jury, the House Judiciary Committee? "Faceless leakers . . . unfounded innuendo . . . wild, irresponsible members."

What could Mr. Nixon do that Mr. Kissinger had not already done in the Middle East? Why, the crowds. "Those crowds were a vital part of the whole operation . . . Kissinger couldn't draw crowds that could compare to that."

So there the vice president was, making remarks that would sound dumb even from a thickheaded, anonymous congressman. And so the disagreement about his traveling or staying home turns out to miss the point: It is not the 89,000 miles he has logged since his swearing-in that does him harm, nor all the hands he has shaken. It is the things he says that he does not have to say.

He could have gone all day and avoided mentioning Mr. Nixon, Watergate, grand juries or anything else controversial. That he insists on doing it anyway, like an old-fashioned fullback banging the line play after play, is either misplaced loyalty to Mr. Nixon or misplaced belief that it is necessary to his long-range acceptance by the conservative Republican hard core. Either way, it is misplaced.

What the country needs from this particular politician, in this unique time, may for once be just the straightforwardness without the pugnacity, for once the flag-waving without the partisan reflexes.

WILL ROGERS SAYS . . .

"Thousands of students just graduated all over the country in law. Going to take an awful lot of crime to support that bunch. A man naturally pulls for the business that brings him his living. A NEW WAY TO NOVATO

Marking and measuring continues as construction proceeds at the DeLong Avenue offramp from the new Highway 101 bypass. The avenue is being bulldozed and broadened to become the main access road to the heart of Novato. At left foreground is the first post office in the city.

Contractors, Carpenters Still Deadlocked On Pay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Associated General Contractors stopped offering work to all carpenters today as a result of the three-day walkout by some 15,000 carpenters at big construction projects in Northern California.

Wendell Reed, chairman of the AGC's labor relations committee, said this was "our reaction to strike activity."

The 46-county Northern California Carpenters Conference called the walkout Monday after the contractors refused to match a pay-package proposal agreed upon by homebuilders and carpenters.

In Marin, several large construction jobs remained shut down today by the strike, including the Courthouse Square project in San Rafael, the Fireman's Fund computer center near Lucas Valley, Canon Village in Fairfax, a medical building at 1000 South Eliseo in Larkspur, the Novato freeway bypass and a digital telephone systems building in Ignacio.

William T. Wilson, financial secretary of San Rafael Local 35 of the carpenters' union, said that home builders and other contractors who had signed interim agreements with the union were not being affected by the walkout.

Reed expressed doubt of an early settlement. "At the moment we would view it as a fairly long struggle to develop a reasonable settlement," he said.

Homebuilding carpenters received a one-dollar hike to $9.75 an hour. They will receive an additional 25 cents an hour in November.

Reed called the settlement "irresponsible." He added that the AGC and carpenters "have a responsibility to the public to halt spiraling costs."

Work on about 100 big projects was halted by the strike. Some 100,000 other craftsmen were not crossing the carpenters' picket lines. The projects were valued at millions of dollars.

Major jobs halted in the San Francisco Bay Area included a California State Automobile Association building and a Wells Fargo building in San Francisco and a Standard Oil Co. facility in Richmond.

Two major dam projects in the Sierra foothills, Buchanan in Madera County and Melones in Tuolumne County, were also brought to a standstill.

Vacancy On Sausalito Planning Panel Filled

George Hutchins, a retired physics professor, last night was named to replace J. Gordon Levinson on the Sausalito Planning Commission.

Sausalito city councilmen announced the appointment of Hutchins, 69, following a closed session before last night's regular council session.

Hutchins, of 600 Main Street, retired from the faculty of San Francisco City College in 1970. He has been a resident of Sausalito since 1950.

Levinson, who served on the planning commission only seven weeks, recently moved from the city.

The Sausalito City Council also:

MORATORIUM — Failed to pass an eight-month extension of the current moratorium on waterfront construction. The measure required that requires an environmental impact report shall be a conditional use and subject to planning commission and city council review. Exempted were any developers who already have building permits.

OPEN SPACE —Set July 1 for a special session to discuss an open space bond issue planned for the November ballot.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned until next Tuesday in council chambers.

New Storm Drainage Plan Off

Sausalito city councilmen last night abandoned plans for an assessment district that would have financed a new storm drainage system in the Marinship area of the city's waterfront.

The action was required after owners representing more than 50 per cent of property in the proposed district protested its formation.

The largest protesting property owner in the district, which was proposed to extend from the bay in northern Sausalito to lands west of Highway 101, is the Sausalito School District. It would have been asked to pay $19,000 of the estimated $168,000 price tag for the drainage project.

School district trustee Douglas Martin said the school board objected to the district because the city, which owns several roads in the area, including Bridgeway, did not include itself in the assessment plan.

Because a dilapidated wooden drainage culvert east of Bridgeway is blamed for winter flooding in the area, then it should be the culvert's owner who is obligated to pay for repairs, Martin added.

Councilmen said they would explore other means for correcting the problem.

Kentfield Board Sets Test On Tax

Faced with a substantial revenue loss or a higher tax rate, the Kentfield School District board last night decided to challenge The Tamalpais retirement residence's tax exempt status.

The luxurious retirement residence atop Bon Air Hill has been given a "welfare tax exemption" by the county assessor, but county supervisors have vowed to fight the exemption and Kentfield trustees last night agreed to join the battle.

Supt. Eugene C. Peters said trustees will send a letter of protest to the Larkspur City Council which will tonight consider an agreement which would make the tax exemption possible. (A permit granted by the city when the $10.5 million center was built contains a clause stating that the residence will remain on the tax rolls.)

If the school district fails in that plea, it will take the fight to the state Board of Equalization, Peters said.

The agreement with Larkspur will require the retirement center to pay the city a sum equal to what it would pay annually to the city property taxes. But 13 other taxing districts will be out in the cold and lose about $260,000.

The Kentfield School District's share of the loss would be $76,636, according to figures of county auditor-controller Michael Mitchell. To offset the loss, the district would have to raise the tax bill for the owner of a $40,000 home by $15, Mitchell said.

Trustees and several members of the audience agreed that the district should fight the exemption, Peters said.

At Least Two Die In Storm

ANKENY, Iowa (UPI) — At least two persons were killed early today by a severe storm that struck this central Iowa community, and volunteer workers combed the wreckage of several buildings in search of more bodies.

Some officers said they believe as many as six may be dead due to the damage caused by the storm which produced winds of up to 70 miles per hour.

Polk County medical examiner Dr. R. C. Wooters said two bodies — a married couple — had been taken to the temporary morgue at Northwest Elementary School.

The National Weather Service said three had died, but this was not confirmed.

Youth Admits Assault On Princess's Aide

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) — John C. Graham, 18, pleaded guilty to raping Princess Anne's private secretary, Penelope Jan Walters, while "high" on LSD. Sentencing was postponed.

The court was told Miss Walters was raped at knifepoint in her apartment in London's Chelsea district when she returned from her office at Buckingham Palace.

We'll be happy to review our different plans with you...any time.

The smiles are just as bright and just as sincere when you come in to take advantage of our many free services, like Money Orders,* Travelers Checks,* Notary Service, Note Collection,* and Copy Service to name a few.

And if you just want to drop by to chat about the job and kids, we like that too. You see, we're Bay Area folks; this is where we grew to seven friendly branches. So chances are your interests are our interests too.

Ross Valley Savings, in San Anselmo, Walnut Creek, Milpitas, Fairfield, Greenbrae, San Leandro and Vallejo, where a sincere, personal manner is the only way we know how to do our job. Come in soon and experience this personal approach yourself.

PASSENGER CAR TIRE GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees each of its passenger car tires for a specified number of miles when used on passenger cars or station wagons, except taxis. If your tire does not give you this mileage because of:

- defects in material or workmanship,
- normal road hazard failure,
- premature tread wearout (2/32 inches or less remaining);

Montgomery Ward will:

1. During the first 10% of guaranteed mileage, replace the tire free.
2. During the remaining guaranteed mileage, replace it for a prorata charge based on mileage used.

Nail punctures repaired free during the entire guaranteed mileage.

For guarantee service and adjustments, return tire to any Montgomery Ward branch with the Guarantee Booklet issued at the time of sale.

Charge after first 10% of guaranteed mileage based on selling price in effect at the time of return at branch to which returned, including federal excise tax.

Passenger tires used on taxicabs, and motor vehicles other than passenger cars are guaranteed on the same basis against defects in materials and workmanship only.

WARDS BATTERY PROTECTION PLAN

Montgomery Ward will replace this battery at no cost to the original owner if it fails to accept and hold a charge in non-commercial passenger car use during the Free Replacement Period shown:

TOTAL GUARANTEE PERIOD:	60	48	42	36	24	18 Mos.
FREE REPLACEMENT PERIOD:	24	16	12	9	6	3 Mos.

After this period, to the end of the guarantee period, Montgomery Ward will replace the battery, charging only a pro-rated amount for the time since purchase, based on the current regular selling price less trade-in. Batteries in commercial use are guaranteed on a similar basis for half of the specified periods. Commercial use is defined as use in any vehicle for other than family or personal use.

For service under this guarantee, return battery with evidence of date of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.
